18 Mississippians Are Arrested By FBI Today Charged In 3 Slayings

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — The FBI arrested 18 Mississippians, including Neshoba County's sheriff and his deputy, today in connection with the midsummer slayings of three civil rights workers here.

Federal agents in trench coats took Sheriff Lawrence Rainey, 37, and Deputy Sheriff Cecil Price, 27, into custody at their office a few minutes before 9 a.m. Rainey and Price, dressed in their khaki uniforms, surrendered quietly and removed their revolvers.

Other FBI agents fanned over this east central Mississippi town picking up other men. Still others were arrested at nearby Meridian.

21 ARE INVOLVED

In Washington, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said 21 men altogether have been named in criminal charges in connection with the deaths last June of Andrew Goodman and Michael Schwerner, two white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, a Negro from Meridian.

Hoover said 19 were charged with conspiring to interfere with federal rights and the other two with being accessories after the fact of a crime.

The FBI said its information would be made available to state authorities for possible murder warrants.

Deputy Price was the last person to acknowledge seeing the trio alive on June 21 and was one of those who helped remove their bodies from a giant earthen dam near here on Aug. 4.

HOSTILE BYSTANDERS

Those arrested included Sheriff Lawrence Rainey, 37; Deputy Sheriff Cecil Price, 27; Herman Tucker, foreman of the construction work at the earthen dam where the bodies were found; James E. Jordan, 38, a construction worker; and Jerry Sharp, a used car dealer.

The scene at the courthouse was tense as FBI agents arrived. Rainey and Price were out on a call. The FBI, while waiting, attracted a crowd of curious, numbering about 100. No one in the crowd spoke to the FBI.

The crowd got angry after the FBI departed with the arrested men. Several bystanders threatened newsmen and photographers, and one pulled a knife on AP photographer Jack Thornell.

The FBI identified the others arrested or charged as:

OTHERS INVOLVED

Bernard L. Akin, 50, a Meridian salesman; Earl B. Akin, 32, a Meridian trailer salesman; Jimmy Arledge, 27, a Meridian truck driver; Horace D. Barnett, 25, a salesman formerly of Meridian; Travis M. Barnett, 36, part-owner and operator of a Meridian garage.

Also, Otha Neal Burkes, 71, a Philadelphia Police Department patrolman; Olen L. Burrage, 34, a trucking company operator in Philadelphia; James T. Harris, 30, a Meridian truck driver; Frank J. Herndon, 46, who runs a drive-in restaurant in Meridian; Tommy A. Horne, 28, of Meridian, owner of a plumbing firm in Bonita, Miss.

ARREST MINISTER

Also Edgar Ray Killen, 39, a minister, farmer and sawmill operator in Union; Billy Wayne Posey, 28, of Philadelphia, operator of a Williamsville service station; Alton Wayne Roberts, 26, a Meridian salesman.

Also Jimmy Snowden, 31, a Meridian truck driver; Jimmy Lee Townsend, 17, of Philadelphia, a service station attendant at Williamsville; and Oliver R. Warner Jr., 54, a Meridian grocery store operator.

At the time of the FBI announcement, those listed as still at large were Horace D. Barnett, Otha Neal Burkes and Tommy A. Horne.

The FBI refused to say where the arrested men were being taken. It was thought they would be taken to Meridian for arraignment.

It was a dreary, dismal day with heavy overcast as the arrests—which had been expected—came swiftly.

3 DEAD RIGHTISTS

The dead civil rights workers—Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, 22, a Negro from Meridian—came to Neshoba County June 21 to investigate the burning of a rural Negro church four days earlier and the beating of the church elders.

Army 'Copter In Forced Landing

A U.S. Army helicopter en route from New Cumberland Army Depot to Langley Air Force base in Washington, D. C., was forced down by poor visibility Thursday about 3:45 p.m. in a field near Abbottstown.

Five men, including two officers were aboard the helicopter which landed in a field owned by Walter Wentz, about a mile west of Abbottstown.

A truck driver, Howard Stayman, York, who took the five to York, said one of the men told him the helicopter was forced down because of the "low ceiling."

Names of the five could not be learned.

HUGE TRACTOR TRAILER RUNS INTO N. O. HOME

A 39-year-old New Oxford R. 2 mother and her 13-year-old daughter narrowly escaped injury shortly after 8 o'clock this morning when a tractor-trailer crashed through their front door, smashed a bay window in the living room and demolished the front porch. Damage was estimated at several thousand dollars to the house and cab of the truck.

The accident occurred on the Lincoln Highway at the western end of New Oxford when a Motor Freight Express truck, operated by E. H. Godfrey, 62, York, jackknifed on the wet highway as he attempted to stop behind a car which had stopped on the highway to make a left turn into the Old Mill Inn on the opposite side of the road. The truck cab swerved abruptly into the brick home of Daniel Boose, situated a few feet off the highway, went through a six-foot porch and into the front wall of the building. Mrs. Boose and her daughter, Stella, were seated at the kitchen table, less than 25 feet from the wall.

TEAR OFF DOOR

The impact knocked the front door from its hinges and pushed one of three bay windows into the living room. Damage to the house was estimated at "at least $3,000" and the cab of the truck appeared to be badly damaged.

Mrs. Boose rushed to the front of the house when she heard the crash, through the open doorway and opened the right door of the truck cab in an effort to free Godfrey. The door was jammed and she rushed to the kitchen door to call to a number of men passing.

Truck Smashes Into Home

The brick home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Boose, New Oxford R. 2, was badly damaged shortly after 8 o'clock this morning when a Motor Freight Express tractor-trailer jackknifed on the wet highway and smashed through the front wall of the eight-room brick home along Rt. 30 just west of New Oxford. Neither the driver nor Mrs. Boose and her daughter, who were in the kitchen at the time of the accident, were hurt. (Times photo)

Pope Visits A Wretched Slum Area Of Bombay And Tries To Comfort Orphans

By CONRAD FINK BOMBAY, India (AP) — Pope Paul VI visited a wretched slum area of Bombay today, comforting the destitute and the ill and wiping tears from his eyes as he talked with orphan boys of various faiths.

Thousands jammed the squalid streets, straining for a glimpse of the Roman Catholic pontiff. Rioting threatened as police fought to maintain a path for the pope's entourage, but frantic loudspeaker appeals calmed the crowd moments before the pope arrived.

OUTDOOR MASS

The pope opened his third day in India by celebrating an outdoor Mass in a Catholic school stadium. He then walked to a nearby orphanage for breakfast and from there drove miles through the teeming streets for one appointment after another. "Many of us have no fathers," 13-year-old Tony Mascarenas said as he welcomed the pope to

New Record Is Set By '64 Tourists

A total of 2,215,543 persons have visited the Gettysburg National Park so far this year, an all-time high.

The report on visitation for November shows that "there is a possibility the number of visitors may reach the unprecedented total of 2,300,000." Chief Park Ranger John Rogers said.

December normally is a low month for visitation but Rogers held he is hoping there will be some "good weather" which will bring fairly large numbers of tourists to the field. The odds, however, are against the total going much more than 2,250,000. Last December visitation was 38,297.

EACH MONTH HIGHER

However, visitation each month has been running much higher than last year. During November the visitation figures compiled by Chief Ranger Rogers showed 147,990 people visited here, an increase of 62,035 over the 85,955 listed for November, 1963.

So far this year the visitation is 212,462 higher than for the comparable 11 months of last year. The 2,215,543 total as of the end of November compares to 2,003,081 by the end of November, 1963. The visitation so far is already 174,165 more than the entire year's visitation in 1963. And 1963 marked the first time that visitation to the battlefield (Continued on Page 3)

JAYCEES TO MAKE YOUTH JOB SURVEY

The Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce will send 300 questionnaires to recent Gettysburg High School graduates to determine what they found concerning employment possibilities in Gettysburg.

Attorney Oscar F. Spicer was appointed chairman of the "Youth Employment" committee at Thursday evening's session of the Jaycees in the Western Maryland depot here.

He said a total of 300 questionnaires will be sent early in January to graduates of Gettysburg High School of 1962, 1963 and 1964 to determine if they secured a job, where they got the position, if they had any opportunity to secure a job in the town itself and to determine whether they feel there is a demand for the services of local high school graduates locally. He added: "When we get the results of the survey, we will see what if any steps are needed to be taken. The purpose is to discover whether we have substantial employment prospects for high school graduates here, or whether there is a need to seek to improve the number of employment possibilities."

BULLETINS

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Scientists postponed today an attempt to curve Mariner 4 closer to Mars after the 575-pound spacecraft went temporarily out of control.

The Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which built and is guiding Mariner 4 on a seven-month voyage to take the best pictures yet of earth's neighbor, said it would try again Saturday morning.

The malfunction, first major trouble since Mariner was launched last Saturday, came as scientists prepared to trigger a small rocket in its base designed to correct its course to pass within 8,600 miles of Mars.

A well-known critic and biographer of Russian writers, he resigned his duties at Columbia in 1959 to devote more time to writing and research. He has written authoritative studies of Tolstoy, Dostoevski and Pushkin, and his biography of Chekhov, published in 1962, was a contender for the National Book Award. In 1963-64, Mr. Simmons was a senior fellow at the Center for Advanced Studies at Wesleyan University, where he began writing a book on Russian realism.

COLLEGE GIFT CASE TO GO TO HIGHEST COURT

The "case against St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg," went into the records today at Anne Arundel County circuit court in Annapolis in the trial of "The Horace Mann League against J. Millard Tawes."

The case is expected to go to the U. S. Supreme Court when Anne Arundel County court reaches its verdict, and it is expected to determine for the entire nation whether governments may make grants to colleges and universities with religious connections.

LEAGUE BROUGHT SUIT

Horace Mann League then brought suit against Governor Millard Tawes and the four colleges, holding that the state had no right to make the grants. The league contends that "no tax in any amount, large or small, may be levied to support any institutions, whatever they may be called, which either teach or practice religion," quoting from an opinion of one U. S. Supreme Court justice.

Maryland contends that the state is permitted to aid church-related institutions "if it is proved that the institutions perform a legitimate secular function that does not advance or prohibit religion."

Final outcome of the case is expected to affect whether any state or federal aid under any circumstances may be given all of the hundreds of religious-connected colleges and universities in the U. S., among them Gettysburg, which has Lutheran connections.

The final half of the "case against St. Joseph College" was being presented today.

QUOTE CATALOGUE

Thursday in the first half of the case against St. Joseph College, Attorney Melvin J. Sykes for the Horace Mann League, read at length from the college catalogue, in which repeated references appear to Catholicism and Catholic ideals.

"Encouragement of the theocentric organization of each student's life . . . Catholic education . . . the education of religious . . . development of the Christian humanist . . . basic Christian social principles" were phrases that occurred in the catalogue.

Sykes concentrated on the large proportion of each student's curriculum which must be devoted to theological and philosophical studies, and read descriptions of nonreligious courses in the catalogue, in which Christian and Catholic material was included.

He also stressed that either 99 or 100 per cent of the student body had been Catholic in each of the last five years. "Non-Catholics don't even bother to apply," he said.

"RESTRICTION" IS DENIED

J. Nicholas Shriver, counsel for St. Joseph, objected that there "is absolutely no restriction" on entrance to the college and promised to prove the point in his defense next week.

A self-evaluation report by the St. Joseph faculty was also introduced Thursday afternoon. The report repeated much of the material in the catalogue, defining the school's aim as the "higher education of Catholic women."

Devotion to the example of Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton, founder of the college, was mentioned in the report, as well as an admonition to "nurture in the students as members of the mystical body of Christ, a Christian social conscience."

Sykes referred to the government of the school by the

HOLD ANNUAL XMAS DINNER

The annual Christmas dinner meeting of the Altar Guild of Trinity United Church of Christ was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. John D. Teeter, Twin Lakes. Thirty members were present. The program, "The History of the Making of Christmas," was explained by the Rev. Otto Kroeger, pastor of Zion Lutheran Church, Fairfield. He displayed many items of china from England, Italy and Ireland.

The business meeting was in charge of the vice president, Mrs. Robert Snyder, and later the president, Mrs. Harold Fry. Arrangements for the church altar care were planned and committees appointed. Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Charles W. Ogden; vice president, Mrs. Leroy H. Winebrenner; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Thomas McCarthy. The guild will be in charge of the cookie table at the annual Christmas bazaar of the church in the parish hall next Thursday.

The devotions were in the form of a demonstration on the use of the Advent wreath in the home. Mrs. Teeter presented each member present with an Advent wreath. Mrs. Howard S. Fox was in charge of the devotions and told the background story of the making and use of the wreath. Mrs. S. Blaine Miller was the candlelighter and Mrs. T. B. Collins read the Scripture selections. The group responded in the reading of the appropriate prayers.

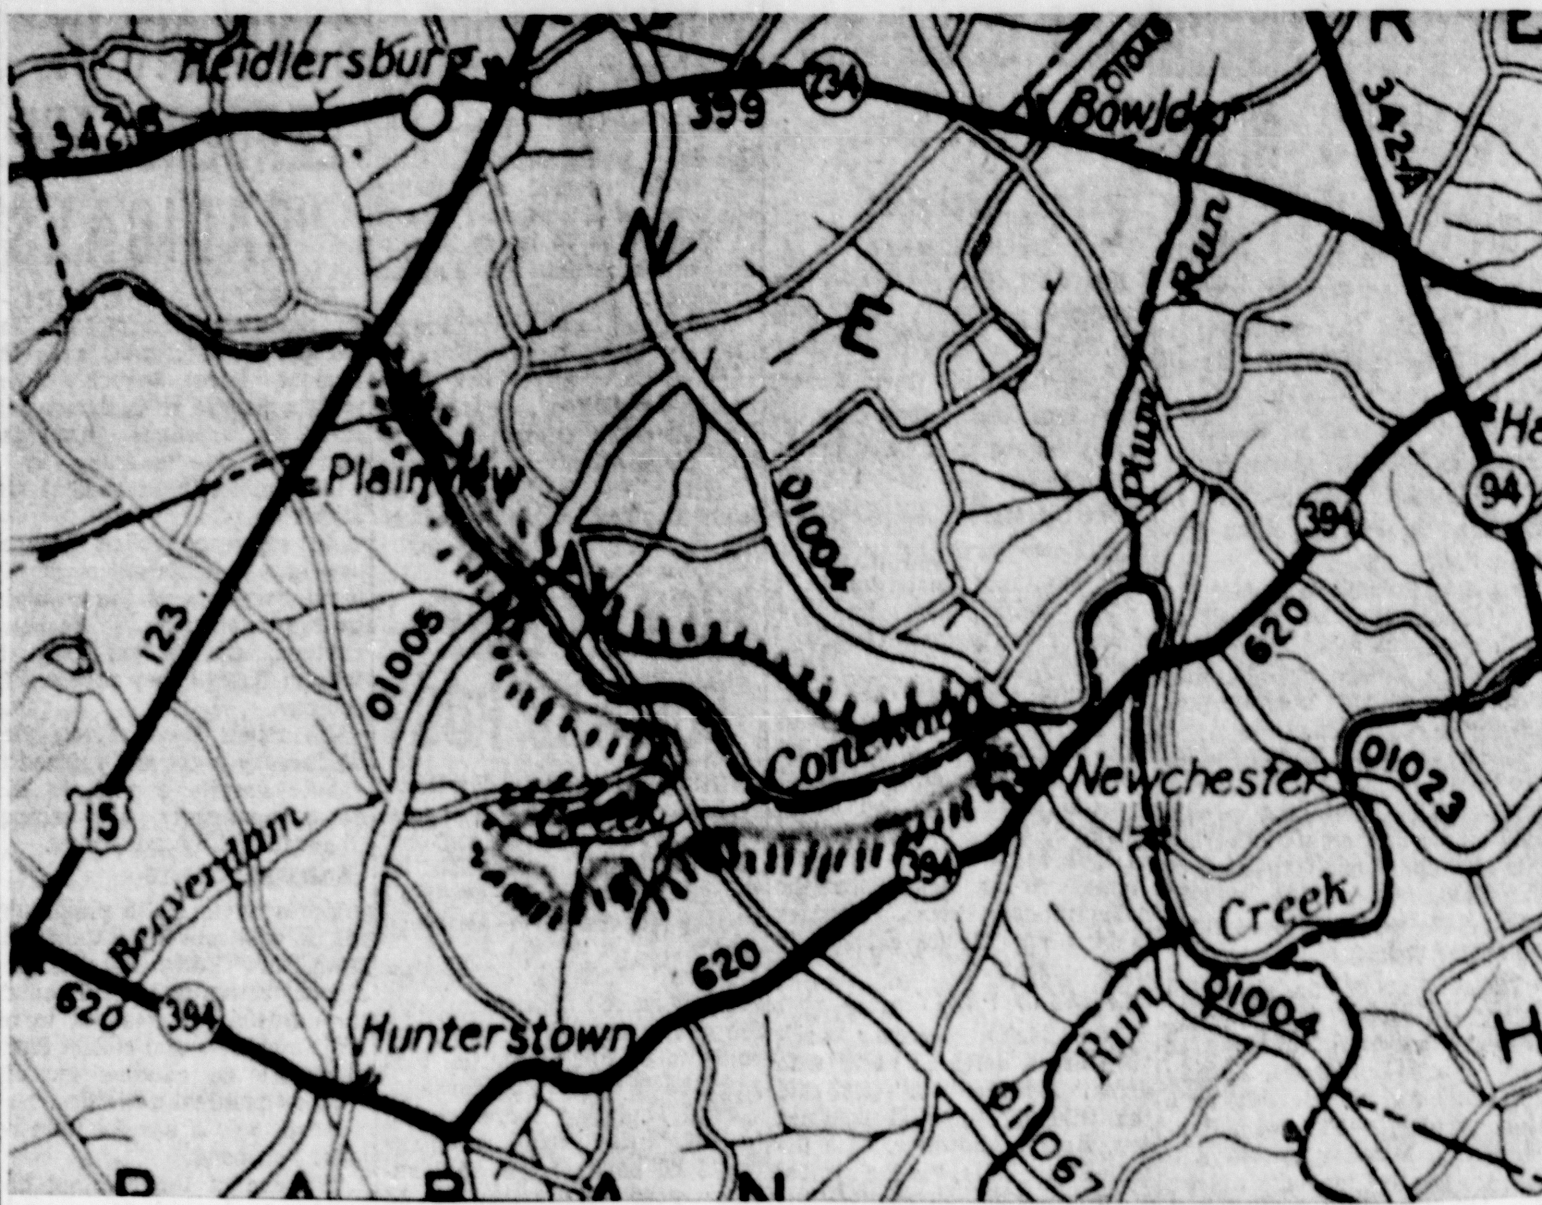

News Of Countians Armed Forces

James C. Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Gilbert, 59 York St., has been transferred from Vinthill Farm, Warrenton, Va., to the Philippines. His address is James C. Gilbert, SRUS, APO 74, San Francisco, Calif.

Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, who form a majority both of the teaching and of the administrative staff of the college. There were only two part-time teachers, Sykes said, who were non-Catholics.

Frequent religious ceremonies at the college, the presence of statues and images, a consistent emphasis on "a truly Catholic tradition" and the fact that a large number of the college's graduates went on to join religious orders were also points brought out in the case.

Reading lists from the college featuring a large proportion of Catholic books were introduced, and the fact that the dean of students who is a sister had the duty of "selecting books" was also put into evidence.

ceeded the 2,000,000 mark. November not only set an unusually large record for visitation during the month but also set a mark for Boy Scout camping for November. A total of 493 Scouts spent a night at Pardee Field during last month.

FEWER AT CENTER

However, visitation to the Park Visitor Center showed a decline for the second straight month. A total of 10,509 visitors entered the main door at the Visitor Center during November, compared to 11,750 during the same month a year ago.

Park Superintendent Kittridge A. Wing in releasing the travel figures expressed the belief that "when all the figures are in for 1964 I am confident Gettysburg will again be among the top 10 of the 202 areas in the United States administered by the National Park Service. Last year Gettysburg ranked eighth in visitation, and chances are we may be even higher this year."

"We can expect the yearly trend toward increased visitation here to continue for some time. The forthcoming Hollywood film on the Battle of Gettysburg to be released in two or three years should be as great an impetus to park visitation as was the Civil War Centennial celebration and the publicity given the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg."

Weaver that pavements must be cleared of snow within 12 hours of the end of a snowfall, and that automobiles must be removed from streets to permit borough workmen to clear snow from the traffic lanes. 3 STUDENTS ARE ARRESTED AFTER CRASH

Three college students were arrested by state police Tuesday after their auto overturned on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, four miles east of the Lancaster-Reading interchange.

Trooper Eugene Lucky identified the students as John A. Reilly, 19, Silver Spring, Md., operator of the car; Patrick McLaughlin, 19, Lynbrook, N. Y., and Richard Hamsler, 18, Baldwin, N. Y. Two other occupants in the car escaped before police arrived.

Charges of possessing and transporting intoxicating beverages were filed against all three, in addition to a reckless driving charge against Reilly, before Justice of the Peace Howard E. Weinhold, Reamstown. The youths, said by police to be students at Mt. St. Mary's College, were released on payment of fines and costs.

Trooper Lucky said the accident occurred at 2:55 p.m. when Reilly, while passing the ramp to the Bowmanville service station, decided at the last minute to turn onto the ramp. The right rear portion of the car struck the concrete divider and it rolled over causing about $1,150 damage to the vehicle. No one was injured.

Today's Talk

SELF-WINDERS

The scientist chap tells us that everytime we think a thought millions of brain cells are torn down — but with the creation of every new thought or idea, new brain cells are created.

The brain winds itself, and the working of your mind depends upon how you wind your brain.

It's a wonderful feeling to go to your bed, at night, knowing that your self-machinery has been propelled by your own ever-enthusiastic self — that you are a self-winder.

And what strength a man has who goes to his work each morning with the feeling that he is not going to be called upon to depend upon anybody to propel his day for him.

Be a self-winder.
The glory about being a self-winder is this: That it's easier to wind your own personal machine, than it is to have anybody else wind it — because anybody else is almost sure to wind it too tight, too fast too slow, or too wrong, somehow.

If you are a self-winder you can smile with all impunity. If somebody else has done your winding for you, then you are terribly unsure whether or not you are going to stay wound. The work that you do you know is your own; but the work which somebody else assists in making you do, you are never sure of finally owning as a product of your thought and initiative.

Do your work with gladness, but do it with such enthusiasm and such whole earnestness that you will never be questioned as to whether you are half wound or unwound — everybody knowing that you are self-wound!

Just Folks
FRIENDSHIP COURAGE

He never felt ashamed to say what many won't admit. That he had seen another's work and highly valued it.

He never thought it silly to speak out a word of cheer. While the one it might encourage was about where he could hear.

When we called him sentimental in reply he often said: He thought it rather futile sending roses to the dead; And he thought it rather idle to be fond of someone near. And not say a word about it till you stood beside his bier.

He wondered how the notion ever struck the human mind. It was folly to be gracious and a weakness to be kind; Why to dead men go the plaudits which the living are denied. And why fondness for another is a thing we ought to hide?

All I know is this about him: These he met along his way. Found encouragement and comfort in the things he chose to say.

For the proof they had his friendship. They were never forced to seek. Since he'd told them so in praises he was not afraid to speak.

MISSILE FORCE CHANGES MAY LURE BRITISH

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson evidently is prepared to agree to extensive changes in U.S. plans for a NATO nuclear missile force in an effort to secure British participation.

He also intends to handle the highly controversial project in such a way as to keep open the possibility, however slight, that France eventually may be persuaded to cooperate.

But he is determined not to let the present opposition of President Charles de Gaulle, who is building a French national nuclear force, block formation of the NATO force, which Johnson hopes can be started next year.

TO MEET WILSON
These points of administration policy emerged from a speech Johnson delivered Thursday at Georgetown University. Setting the stage for his meeting next Monday and Tuesday with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, it appealed for unity among the Atlantic allies and denied the Atlantic alliance is "in the midst of crisis."

Rather, Johnson asserted, the alliance "is in the midst of change," and he argued that every great period of change in the alliance has been characterized by debate and dire warnings of trouble.

The President is turning his primary attention from the crisis in Viet Nam to the problems of the alliance in preparation for the talks with Wilson.

BALL RETURNS
Undersecretary of State George W. Ball returned to Washington Thursday night from diplomatic talks in London and Paris on military, political and economic issues that face the Western allies. Ball is to report to Johnson Saturday.

About the time Ball landed at Andrews Air Force Base, U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor took off for Saigon, after policy discussions with the President and other top officials on the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam.

The administration has not announced any decisions, but neither has it discouraged speculation that bombing strikes shortly may be undertaken against Communist supply lines from North Viet Nam to the south through the jungles of Laos.

Army Captain To Receive Medal
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will present the first Medal of Honor awarded for bravery in South Viet Nam to Army Capt. Roger H. C. Donlon of Saugerties, N.Y., at a White House ceremony Saturday.

The White House announced Thursday that Donlon, 30, would be honored for "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action at the risk of his life" during an attack by Communist Viet Cong guerrillas last July 6.

At the time Donlon commanded an Army Special Forces detachment at Camp Nam Dong. During the five-hour battle that followed the Communist attack, Capt. Donlon personally led successful defense operations.

"Repeatedly exposing himself to heavy enemy fire, he was wounded four times during the engagement."

GOP Governors Are Split On Burch Ouster

By JACK BELL
DENVER, Colo., (AP) — Republican governors split wide open today over a proposal by their chairman, Gov. Robert Smylie of Idaho, that they demand the ouster of GOP National Chairman Dean Burch.

But the state executives were nearly unanimous in agreement that something drastic has to be done to lift their party out of the abyss of the defeat it suffered Nov. 3.

Smylie, who said he would accept the national chairmanship if the party wanted him, declared in a speech prepared for the opening session of an extraordinary conference that the governors ought to have the stamina to recommend that the national committee "consider making appropriate changes in its leadership."

DEFEATED PARTY
The Idaho governor said, "We are a defeated party with a defeated leadership." He said the GOP presidential nominee Sen. Barry Goldwater, as a defeated candidate, "is the symbol of a rejected alternative" to Democratic President Johnson.

Noting that Goldwater had said four years ago that Richard M. Nixon was "just going to be a Republican lawyer," Smylie said that Goldwater is in a similar category now.

"For that reason," he said, "we really are a leaderless party, because no one has earned the right to that leadership by winning an election."

But Smylie's "dump Burch" demand ran into instant opposition.

ROMNEY SILENT
Gov. George Romney of Michigan said on his arrival at the conference Thursday night that the Idaho governor's proposal for adoption of a resolution recommending Burch's ouster was "Gov. Smylie's idea, and I won't comment on it."

Romney, saying he is a team player and not a political "loner" as he has sometimes been described, said "this is no time to read anybody out of the party."

The important thing, he added, is to bring all elements in under one tent.

CHAFEE FOR OUSTER
In contrast, Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, who won re-election by the highest plurality scored by any GOP gubernatorial candidate, said he is willing to back a resolution demanding Burch's ouster.

On the other hand, Gov. Cliff P. Hansen of Wyoming said "no useful purpose would be served" by any action of the governors in demanding Burch's ouster.

"I think Mr. Burch will resign if he does not have majority support of the party," Hansen said.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, voiced the opinion that "this is no time for blood letting."

"Our blood is too thin and there is too little of it," he said. Morton said he will use what influence he has to keep Burch as national chairman.

Last year 15,000 U.S. tourists visited Hungary.

Mellon May Build New Art Gallery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Millionaire philanthropist Paul Mellon is reported considering construction of a new art gallery in Washington to house his extensive collection of English paintings.

According to the Washington Evening Star, Dennis Farr, a London art expert, has been named by Mellon as curator of the collection. He told the Star by transatlantic telephone Thursday that he plans to sail from England Jan. 6, to establish residence in Washington.

BUCK IN LINE FOR AAU POST
HOUSTON (AP) — Jay-Ehert Mahoney took most of the delegates at the annual Amateur Athletic Union convention by surprise when he said he didn't want a second term as president.

Clifford H. Buck of Denver, Colo., a retired division manager for a sporting goods firm, appears to be in line for the post since he is first vice president.

Until Thursday, there seemed to be little doubt Mahoney would be head of the AAU another year. Many thought he could even keep the job by acclamation.

He said, however, that "the press of private business" had forced him not to consider another term at this time. He has a law firm in New York.

Mahoney said the argument between the AAU and the NCAA over sanctioning of open track events had nothing to do with his decision.

SAYS SIT-IN LEADERS ARE "RADICALS"

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — President Clark Kerr of the University of California, says the student Free Speech Movement's chaotic sit-in demonstration on campus Thursday amounted to "anarchy by a willful minority of radical students."

An army of police dragged rag-limp students out of the littered corridors of the administration building on the Berkeley campus, and hauled them to jails in buses. They arrested 81 persons.

The rebels seized Sproul Hall Wednesday night and refused to vacate despite a plea to disperse peacefully by campus Chancellor Edward Strong.

LEADS STUDENTS
Mario Savio, 21, a philosophy major who moved to California from New York City, led the demonstrators in their demands for unrestricted freedom to recruit members and collect funds anywhere on campus for off-campus political activities.

Jailed, only a handful were released on bond.

"Seizure of the building had nothing to do with free speech, and the F.S.M. knew it," Kerr said.

"This protest has never been over free speech," he said. "There has been and is freedom of speech at the University of California. The protest has been over organizing political action on the campus. This has been granted within the limits of the law."

FREED ON BAIL
Some students released on bail made charges of police brutality. But law enforcement officials said the only injuries were those inevitable in the job of lifting, carrying and arresting limp or struggling bodies.

A group of faculty members asked Berkeley's presiding municipal judge, Rupert Crittenden, to release the arrested students on their own recognizance or to cut their bail to $25.

The students face one or all of several charges — unlawful assembly, trespassing and resisting arrest. Bail for most of them was set at about $300.

JOHN HUARTE NOT JUMPING AT 1ST OFFER
By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP) — John Huarte wants to play pro football. Both the New York Jets and the Philadelphia Eagles want him to play pro football. It comes down to a question of money and opportunity.

The Notre Dame quarterback, in town to accept the Heisman Trophy Thursday night at the Downtown Athletic Club, isn't jumping at the first offer. The handsome young man from Anaheim, Calif., has a good head on his shoulders and long-range plans for a future in business after his football days are over.

Sonny Werblin, owner of the Jets who picked Huarte No. 2 in the American Football League draft, probably can go high in money and promises for the future. Werblin also happens to be a high-ranking executive in Music Corp. of America, the big wheel in the entertainment industry.

MONEY NOT ALL
Joe Kuharich, coach of the Eagles who picked Huarte No. 6 in the National Football League, also has an in. It was Kuharich who recruited Huarte from Mater Dei High School in Santa Ana, Calif. It was Kuharich who was the head coach at Notre Dame when Huarte broke in as a sophomore in 1962. Injuries kept Huarte out of action for all but a few minutes of that season.

"Money is not the only important factor," Huarte told writers at a news conference before the Heisman dinner. "The opportunity to play is another big point. Eventually, I expect to go on to graduate school in business. I have talked to the Jets and to Kuharich. I stand right in the middle. I want to see where I have the best opportunity."

Snyder, Ward, Brentzel Picked To First, Second And Third All-State 1964 College Football Teams By AP

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Penn State, the 1964 Lambert Trophy Winner as the leading football team in the East, placed five team members on this year's All Pennsylvania College Football Team.

The five Nittany Lions are all seniors and were among nine last-year men on the team.

The All-State also included the state's leading scorer, Gettysburg's Ken Snyder.

Because of the large number of two-way performers among smaller college in the state, a one-platoon team was named by sports writers, broadcasters and telecasters participating in the AP poll.

RECOGNIZE SPECIALTY

Among the larger schools, where two platoons were used, players were recognized for their specialty.

From Penn State these defensive stars were chosen:

End Bud Yost, linebacker Glen Ressler and back Frank Hershey.

Quarterback Gary Wydman and tackle John Simko were named from Penn State for their offensive skills.

Filling out the first team were end Tom Mitchell of Bucknell, tackle Al Atkinson of Villanova, guard Ray Popp of Pitt, center Jim Scagliotti from East Stroudsburg, Snyder, and back Jerry Preschutti of Temple. Scagliotti, of the East Stroudsburg State College conference champions and Mitchell are the only juniors.

Named to the second team were: Ends Joe Pascale, Lock Haven and Joe Bellissimo, Indiana; Tackles Don Bradley, California and Larry Diebler, Westminster; Guards Marty Schottenheimer, Pitt, and Ray Hed-

UCLA, ILLINOIS HEADLINERS FOR TONIGHT

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA opens defense of its national collegiate basketball championship at Illinois tonight in a game that headlines the national program.

The contest is expected to provide an answer to just how good the Bruins are without All-America Walt Hazzard who led them through an unbeaten 30-game season a year ago.

Although Harry Combes, Illinois coach, says "we're going to be a good team" Johnny Wooden, UCLA mentor, feels he has the material for another national champion. The Bruins are led by veterans Gail Goodrich and Keith Erickson and Fred Goss, a junior, who didn't play last season. They're favored to make it 31 straight despite opening on the road.

UPSET FOR GEORGIA

Georgia's 64-61 upset of North Carolina highlighted the comparatively slim national program Thursday on the third night of the new season.

Jimmy Pitts, with 20 points, including three free throws that put the Bulldogs ahead for good at 42-40, helped offset Bill Cunningham's stellar performance for the Tar Heels.

Vanderbilt, ranked No. 6 in The Associated Press preseason poll and favored to win the Southeastern Conference, opened with an easy 78-49 triumph over Rice. The Commodores were the only team in the preseason Top Ten to see action. They showed good balance with five men in double figures led by Roger Schurig with 14.

St. Louis wiped out a 22-7 deficit against Ohio State to whip the Buckeyes 79-70. Boston College got 22 points from John Austin and crushed Dartmouth 104-76. Maryland edged George Washington 83-80. Rhode Island downed Brown 75-65. Florida State took Virginia Military 76-72 and Manhattan overcame Colgate 76-62.

NEW REPORTS ON BELINSKY GOING TO PHILS

By CHARLES MAHER

Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — The Los Angeles Angels probably will trade pitcher Bob Belinsky to the Philadelphia Phillies for two minor league players, a source close to the Angels told The Associated Press today.

This source said he could not identify the minor leaguers but another informant said they probably are Costen Shockley, a first baseman who led the Pacific Coast League in home runs last season, and Rudy May, a left-handed pitcher who was with Indianapolis of the Coast League.

There hadn't been a deal of any consequence in more than three days as major league executives began the final session of their winter meeting today.

LEGISLATIVE ACTIONS
But American and National League club owners did approve two important pieces of legislation Thursday.

They adopted a pro-football-type draft of players with no professional experience and voted to give the next commissioner of baseball the broad powers vested in the first man to hold the office, Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

Of the trade rumors, the one involving Belinsky was the strongest. Since he had an altercation with a Los Angeles sports writer in a Washington hotel last season, there has been no doubt Belinsky would be traded. And the consensus was it would happen before the winter meeting ended.

TO BE RATIFIED
Belinsky, who will be 28 on Monday, had a 9-8 record and a 2.87 earned-run average last season.

The legislation involving the commissioner's power and the free-agent draft was approved by the two leagues in separate meetings Thursday and was expected to be formally ratified at a joint meeting today.

Owners decided to broaden the commissioner's power in two ways:

1. By repealing a rule that no action taken by vote of club owners can be construed as detrimental to baseball.

2. By providing that owners will have no recourse to the courts on action taken by the commissioner.

NO SUCCESSOR
The commissioner was stripped of these powers during the administration of A. B. (Happy) Chandler, who succeeded Landis and preceded the present commissioner, Ford C. Frick.

Frick will retire next year. His successor has not been picked.

The player draft will go into effect next year. There will be three drafts each year, in January, June and probably August. College players and high school graduates not intending to go to college will be drafted at the first two and American Legion and sandlot players at the third.

BIGLERVILLE HI MAT SQUAD HAS 7 VETS

The Biglerville High School wrestling squad is now in full swing preparing for a rugged 12-meet schedule which opens next Thursday evening against non-league Chambersburg on the Cannert's mat.

Having lost five four-year veterans last year through graduation, Don Hills, new Biglerville coach, is carefully rebuilding his squad to face the stiff Blue Mountain League competition.

The new Cannert mentor feels he has a strong nucleus with seven returning lettermen but is pessimistic as to outlook for a winning season due to the loss of last year's seniors.

Hills formerly coached at Wellsboro from 1957 to 1960 where his teams dominated wrestling in north central Pennsylvania, winning 23 dual meets and losing but six. He produced seven individual sectional champions and one District Four titlist. Hills also won a sectional team title and shared another.

RETURNING VETS
Lettermen back this season include: Seniors, Terry Taylor, Melvin Mentzer, John Pitzer and Robert Cover; Juniors, Donald Taylor, Edwin Taylor and Bernard Baker.

ENTER TOURNEY
In addition to the regular schedule the entire Biglerville team will enter the annual Christmas Holiday invitational tournament at Northern High School, Dillsburg.

The schedule:
December 10, Chambersburg, home; 12, "Big Spring, away; 17, "Newport, home; 19, "Susquehanna, home; 29-30, Northern Invitational.
January 7, "Northern, away; 14, New Oxford, home; 21, "East Pennsboro, away; 23, Carlisle, home; 28, "Boiling Springs, home; 30, West York, home.
February 4, "Camp Hill, home; 13, "Shippensburg, away. "Blue Mountain League matches.

NFL PICKS UP 2 MORE PLUMS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Football League has picked off two more plums — big ones — in its pocketbook battle with the American Football League and now has signed half of its first-round draft choices.

So, it must be noted, has the AFL.

Dick Butkus and Craig Morton, two of the biggest of the big prizes, signed with NFL clubs Thursday. Butkus, a 245-pound Illinois linebacker, signed with Chicago, and Morton, California's quarterback, signed with the Dallas Cowboys. No terms were announced, but each was believed to have signed for a package of about $200,000.

Their signings gave the NFL seven of their 14 first-round choices with two lost to the AFL. The AFL has signed four of its eight first-round choices, with three lost to the NFL.

Queen Empress and Marsha, the one-two finishers in the rich Gardenia at Cherry Hill, N.J., are granddaughters of the imported Nasrullah.

MAT SQUAD TO HOST JUNIATA ON SATURDAY

Ray Reider makes his debut as head wrestling coach at Gettysburg College when the Bullets tangle with Juniata Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in the physical education building.

The new Bullets mentor will be counting on the services of seven lettermen when Gettysburg attempts to equal last year's record of 11-3-1. On the other hand, he will have to look for a replacement for 167-pounder Pete McDowell, Abington, who will be lost for the year. McDowell sustained a shoulder injury last spring and it did not respond to treatment in time for action this season.

Reider feels that the team will be exceptionally strong at 147 and 157 and with the loss of McDowell, will head the 157-pound list, but will also be found working the 147 slot. Scott Higgins, who finished third in the Plebe Tourney at West Point, will be handling the 147 slot. Bill Andrews, Roosevelt, N. Y., will be called upon to fill the gap at 167.

OTHER STARTERS

Sophomore John Wallach, Suffern, N. Y., and Senior Doug Wight, Westfield, N. J., will work at 123. The 130-pound class will be handled by Sophomore Jake Seitz or Junior Sam Taylor. Taylor was a standout on the freshman team two years ago, but a shoulder injury kept him out of action last season.

Joe O'Donnell, Valley Stream, N. Y.; Dick Hughey, Pittsburgh; and Chris Ebert, Pittsburgh, are a toss-up for the 137 action. O'Donnell is the leading contender, but Ebert and Hughey have been coming on strong.

Toby Mullin, Amityville, N. Y., will be used in both the 167 and 177 events. Reider will rotate Jeff Alnwick, Merrick, N. Y.; Bob Barrett, Brunswick, Me.; and Joe Egresitz, Harrisburg, at 177 and heavyweight classes.

SWIM TEAM TO OPEN AGAINST LOCK HAVEN

Gettysburg College's swim team will open its 1964-65 season Saturday afternoon when it invades Lock Haven State College.

The Bullets finished with a 7-4 record a year ago for their first winner in six campaigns and only the fourth winning record in the 30-year history of the sport. Coach Curt Coull, starting his fifth season at the Bullets helm, will have 12 veterans back from last season's successful squad.

The veteran freestylers include Bob Nix, Sewickley; Pete Wilson, a Senior from White Plains, N.Y.; and Craig Van Tatenhove, a Senior from North Caldwell, N.J. Wilson handles the prints while Van Tatenhove and Nix will take care of the distances. Gettysburg will also receive plenty of free-style help from Sophomore Bob Jones, Westfield, N.J.; Senior Bill Saliminen, Rochester, N.Y.; and Sophomore Clayton Wilcox, Greenville, S.C.

Bob Dillon, Trenton, N.J., and Avery Gentile, Ithaca, N.Y., are the two experienced backstrokers, but they are receiving strong competition from Junior Kerm Peters, Norristown, and Sophomore Norm Tinaoff, Baltimore. Speedster Don Gregg, a Junior from Needham, Mass., and another Junior, Gordie Rowe, East Aurora, N. Y., will give Gettysburg a good strong attack in the butterfly.

OTHER VETERANS
The Bullets will have three veteran breaststrokers and promising Sophomore Al Guild and Gary Katz head the field although Doug Sheely, a record holder who has been in the service for the past two years, is returning to form quickly. Lee Ostroff, Annapolis, Md., is the lone Sophomore.

Gettysburg's diving will rest on the shoulders of Rudy Socy, Trenton, N.J., and Bill Gotsals, Norristown. Socy is considered one of the finest in the area today.

The Bullets' relay team of the 1963-64 season set two school records. Only one man is gone from both squads. Gentle, Guild and Rowe will be returning to the medley relay squad while Socy, Nix and Wilson will be back to better their mark in the free-style relay event. If Coull can come up with a replacement for the graduated Curt Cheyney, the Bullets could equal or better last season's record.

BIG GAME IN MISSISSIPPI ON SATURDAY

By JAMES SAGGUS

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi State and Mississippi, tough football teams that found the season full of frustrations, will clash here Saturday in a traditional game that erases disappointments for the winner.

Injuries, unexpected weaknesses and bad luck combined to plague both squads much of the season and both are hoping for a victory to compensate for their setbacks.

The annual game, delayed this year to fit into the national television schedule, is expected to draw a capacity crowd of 35,000.

TO BE ON TV

It will be telecast by NBC starting at 2:45 p.m. EST.

The game shares top billing with the hurricane-delayed night clash between Sugar Bowl-bound Louisiana State, 7-1-1, and Florida, 6-3, at Baton Rouge, La. LSU will meet Syracuse in the Sugar Bowl.

Louisiana State faces a crippled Florida squad. Florida coach Ray Graves said senior Tom Shannon would start at quarterback in place of ankle-injured Steve Spurrier. Graves said Spurrier would see only limited action.

The LSU-Florida game had been scheduled for Oct. 3 but was postponed because of Hurricane Hilda.

CINDERELLA TEAM

Mississippi, the pre-season choice to win the national collegiate championship, found the going rough early in the year and has a 5-3-1 record.

Only a thumping 30-0 victory over Tennessee three weeks ago preserved the Rebel string of bowl invitations when it won a spot in the Bluebonnet Bowl against Tulsa at Houston Dec. 19.

State, a Cinderella team with a 6-2-2 mark in 1963, had hoped to show even more improvement, but a series of injuries made a walking, wounded corps of the team's key players. State will take a 3-6 record into the contest.

PA. DOMINATES EASTERN TEAM

NEW YORK (AP) — Pennsylvania, with seven players, dominated the Eastern College Athletic Conference College Division South football team.

The team was named Thursday on the basis of weekly selections and nominations made during the season.

Among the players named from Pennsylvania colleges was Tom Mitchell, Bucknell's star end, who previously was chosen the ECAC's player-of-the-year in the College Division.

The others are end Paul Riccardi, Moravian; Tackle Bill Hohenheit, Lebanon Valley; Guard Andy Deburinko, Bucknell; center George Gamber, Albright; halfback Larry Erdman, Susquehanna; and fullback Bill Bors, Albright.

Rounding out the team are tackle Paul Perret, Wagner; guard Manny Insua, Delaware; quarterback Tom Hespos, C.W. Post; and halfback Bill Hopkins, Delaware.

Ursinus halfback Anthony Motto was named sophomore of the year.

MSM Soccer Stars Gain First Team

Two Mt. St. Mary's College soccer players were selected to the Mason-Dixon Conference all-star team it was announced today.

Al Rufe, goalie, and Ken Swomley, wing, were the Mountaineers gaining the honors.

Three other schools, Washington, the conference champion; Loyola and Catholic University, also placed two players on the first team.

FROSH CAGERS SHOW PROMISE; FACE ALBRIGHT

The Gettysburg College Freshman basketball team will open play Saturday evening at 6:45 when they meet the Albright JV's in the preliminary to the varsity tilt in the physical education building.

Coach John Carpenter, starting his fifth season at the Little Bullets helm, stated that this year's team could very well be the best shooting frosh squad to come out of Gettysburg. The major problem facing Carpenter is team unity. Also lacking will be a good strong defense, but this is expected to come around as the season progresses.

The Little Bullets will have eight players of about equal ability and all eight will see plenty of action throughout the season. Battling for a starting assignment in the backcourt will be Bob Gressler, 6', White Plains, N.Y.; Jack Staley, 6', Batavia, N.Y.; and Howard Stier, 5'10", Clifton, N.J. Gressler could very well be one of the finest yearling backcourt men in the area.

Five talented men are fighting for the three inside slots. These include Doug Amos, 6'1", Reading, Mass.; Thomas Barile, 6'2", Bound Brook, N.J.; Craig Guers, 6'2", Shickligny; Ross Krumm, 6'4", Alexandria, Va.; and Doug Price, 6'4", Newfane, N.Y. Guers and Krumm are good strong defensive players with excellent moves.

Gettysburg has good balance and depth. The Little Bullets could very well equal the record smashing performance of two years ago when they recorded a 17-2 slate.

Detroit Sets Hot Pace In Ice Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It could be that the Detroit Red Wings, with old pro Norm Ullman showing the way, just may be serious in their bid for the lead in the National Hockey League.

Ullman, in his 10th NHL season, sparked the Wings to a 4-2 victory over hapless Boston Thursday night, increasing Detroit's leading margin to three points and extending their unbeaten string to five straight.

Montreal stormed over Toronto 4-2 in the only other game played, moving the Canadiens into a tie with the Leafs for second place, each with 23 points.

PICK BROWNS TO NIP CARDS AND WIN TITLE

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Browns should wrap up the Eastern Conference title in the National Football League Sunday by beating the St. Louis Cardinals in St. Louis. If the Browns win or tie, they go into the championship game with the Baltimore Colts, Dec. 27 at Cleveland.

If the Cards win, it will go down to the wire.

With the help of a 7-1-1 week-end, the old batting average moved up to 79-48-3, 51-28-5 in the NFL and 28-15-3 in the AFL. Counting this weekend's 10 games there are 24 more regular season games.

Here are the picks, all games Sunday unless otherwise indicated:

NFL
Green Bay 24, Chicago 14 — (Saturday afternoon) — Another chapter of the old bitter rivalry. Packers won 23-12 in season opener when Paul Hornung kicked three field goals. Green Bay, forced to settle for a shot at second, has won four of five but revived Bears have swept last three. Bart Starr should have a big day.

Cleveland 31, St. Louis 30 — Browns by a whisker in a shoot-the-works game for the Cardinals, who must gamble with everything. Ryan will find weak link in Card defense but Browns' weak pass rush will give Charley Johnson plenty of everything. Frank Ryan will find weak link in Card defense but Browns' weak pass rush will give Charley Johnson plenty of time. Jim Bakken tied first game 33-33 with field goal in last five seconds.

Philadelphia 21, Dallas 17 — Both clubs on down grade. Cowboys still hurting in backfield, have lost three straight.

Baltimore 31, Detroit 17 — Colts on 11-game win streak with Don Shula shooting for fourth in a row over his old mates. Baltimore won in a breeze 34-0, Oct. 25. Lenny Moore with 17 touchdowns needs only three more for the league record.

Los Angeles 24, San Francisco 21 — Roman Gabriel bombed the 49ers 42-14 in mid-October but rookie Bill Munson went the route last week in loss to Vikings. Rams have lost three in a row and 49ers seven of eight.

Minnesota 28, New York 21 — Vikings are driving for second money and anxious to impress on first New York appearance. Washington 28, Pittsburgh 14 — Steelers tough to predict but Redskins have won five of six and Sonny Jurgensen is back in old form with 24 td passes. Redskins should do the job but not by 30-0 this time.

AFL
Boston 24, Kansas City 14 — Patriots blitz Lenny Dawson and win on Gino Cappelletti's field goals.

San Diego 28, New York 14 — Jets on the road are a different team from Jets at home. Chargers, held to 17-17 tie in New York Oct. 3, are tuning up offense for title game with all parts healthy.

Buffalo 28, Oakland 21 — Bills won't find Al Davis' gang easy. The first game was a 23-20 squeaker for Buffalo in October.

Rusk, Gromyko
Probe For New
Cold War Cure

By LEWIS GULICK

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union moved today toward a new search for cold war solutions after avoiding — at least for the time being — a head-on fight over U.N. finances.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk arranged a third meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko Saturday and left open the possibility of further talks next week.

These are the first high-level U.S.-Soviet discussions since the new regime took over in Moscow, and the two Rusk-Gromyko sessions earlier this week focused on the immediate crisis over Soviet arrears on U.N. dues.

OTHER PROBLEMS

Rusk was reported ready now to canvass with Gromyko the possibilities for agreement on other East-West problems ranging from disarmament to trade. The U.S. assessment is that the Soviet government is still under committee rule and thus not likely to make radical policy changes. In contrast to Moscow's currently harsh propaganda, Gromyko in speaking privately to Rusk was said to have left out charges against U.S. policy in the Congo and Viet Nam.

American sources said Gromyko was interested in broadening the 1963 nuclear test ban. France and Red China have refused to join, and there seems to be little Washington or Moscow can do about that. However, Rusk and Gromyko were said to agree that the possibility of extending the ban to underground explosions — now exempt — could be explored in technical talks at the Geneva disarmament conference.

BIG RED DEBT

The U.N. financial argument is on a back burner and the simmering question is: How much will the Soviets have to pay —

Says Philadelphia
Lacks 40 Judges

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The chancellor-elect of the Philadelphia Bar Association says Philadelphia's present 40 judges is insufficient to handle the growing number of legal cases. Marvin Comisky, who becomes the 38th chancellor of the association on Jan. 1, told the association's annual meeting Thursday that Philadelphia should have over 80 judges. He said he based this on the number of judges in New York, Chicago, Baltimore, Cleveland and Los Angeles. Meanwhile, Arlin M. Adams, state secretary of welfare, was elected without opposition as vice chancellor. He automatically will become chancellor in 1967.

Obscenity Charges
Dropped In Phila.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The District Attorney's office has dropped obscenity charges against 18 newsstand dealers and two store owners arrested in raids on Oct. 2, 1963. David Creskoff, assistant district attorney, made the motion to drop the charges Thursday. Judge Edward J. Griffiths, in granting the motion, said that under a recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling, mass raids and seizures without prior judicial determination of obscenity constitute "constitutional deficiency."

WILLIAMS REPORTS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., spent more than four times as much in his election campaign than his Democratic opponent, reports filed with the senate secretary showed today.

In post-election statements, and in what manner will they pay — to escape losing their vote in the General Assembly for not paying their assessments for U.N. peacekeeping operations in the Congo and the Middle East?

The United States and the Soviet Union have tossed this problem to Secretary-General U. Thant.

S. AFRICA AND
U. S. TIED IN HAWAIIAN MEET

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer
KAANAPALI, MAUI, Hawaii (AP) — A dispatch on golf from this exotic isle in Hawaii is not much different from one filed stateside. That is to say, Arnold Palmer led the way into the second round of the Canada Cup matches Friday and the United States was tied for the team lead with South Africa.

The American Masters champion and Jack Nicklaus combined to lead their nation in the all-important team competition. Palmer with a six-under-par 66 and Nicklaus an even par 72 for a total of 138.

South Africa's Gary Player and his less-known partner, Denis Hutchinson, each shot a 69 for the same 138.

ARGENTINA THIRD

Promising a stiff fight for the Canada Cup, as play continued over the green slopes and hills of the Royal Kananapali golf course, Argentina was third at 140, Hawaii next at 141, trailed by the Philippines, 142, and Brazil, 143.

Stretched out behind were twosomes from a total of 32 nations, and Hawaii and Puerto Rico entered in this international goodwill event.

Palmer toured the par 36-72 challenge in 33-33-66 in a round that included trips to two traps, six birdies and an eagle. The day was delightful and Arnold's most significant comment at the finish to partner Nicklaus and the world press assembled here was:

"Let's go swimming."

Palmer closed out his birdie string on No. 16 with a putt that traveled an estimated 118 feet — Arnie's estimate, confirmed by Nicklaus. Maybe it was only 85, but who was to argue.

Williams reported expenditures of $6,380.11 compared with $1,423.32 for Gov. Elbert N. Carvel, Williams' Democratic opponent.

Hell Erased From California Map

HELL, Calif. (AP) — A funny thing happened to this little desert town — often the butt of many bad jokes. You just can't go to Hell anymore.

The California division of highways smashed and burned the dickens out of Hell. Engineers reasoned that a new freeway routing was more important.

Gone are the post office, gas station and the one lone restaurant.

But in nearby Indio there still stands a sign that reads:

"100 miles of desert ahead — right through Hell."

SNOW, SLEET,
RAIN AND WIND
HITS NATION

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stormy weather, with snow, sleet, rain and strong winds, swept nearly all sections of the nation today, continuing the climatic pattern of the past several days.

Below zero cold again stung northern Midwest states. It was 19 below in North Dakota.

The snow, sleet and gusty winds raked broad areas from New England through New York State into Idaho.

Driving conditions in most of the states hit by snow and sleet were hazardous and warnings were issued by Weather Bureau. The bureau also posted heavy snow warnings in Midwest areas, already hit by falls up to a half foot or more this week.

FOOT OF SNOW

The heaviest snow fell in the central part of the nation covering areas in Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Iowa, with warnings of heavy amounts in northern sections of Illinois and Indiana and the southern third of Lower Michigan.

A wind-blown snowstorm whipped south central areas Thursday, dumping nearly a

SAYS CASTRO
HAS ARRESTED
3 MINISTERS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Cuban underground radio message said Fidel Castro has arrested three of his cabinet ministers.

The message, released by the Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba Thursday, also mentioned gunfire in the presidential palace at Havana.

It coincided with accounts by recently arrived refugees of unrest in Cuba, of rumors of plots against Castro and of a possible power struggle within Cuba's Communist party.

Paula Paul Bethel executive secretary of the citizens committee, said the palace shooting apparently was the one reported in a Dec. 1 Havana dispatch by New York Times correspondent Juan De Onis. This mentioned a "reliable report of a shooting within the presidential palace in which the head of the security guard for President Osvaldo Dorticos was killed."

ACL FOOTBALL
TITLE GAME
THIS SUNDAY

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — New Jersey's largest city will be the scene of a championship professional football game for the first time in 20 years Saturday when the Newark Bears defend their Atlantic Coast Football League title against the Boston Sweepers.

The Bears will be seeking their third straight championship while Boston made a rag-to-riches ascent that saw it climb from last year's 2-9-1 cellar record to this season's 11-3 northern champs.

The playoff, which starts at 1:30 p.m. (EST), matches two coaches who were former pro stars in different leagues. Newark's Steve Van Buren was one of the all-time great runners with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League while Boston's Butch Songin made his mark as a passing ace in the American and Canadian leagues.

NEWARK ACES

Comparing the teams, Newark has the individual stars. Kicker Bill Shockley (43 conversions, 15 field goals) and halfback Mike Hagler (11 touchdowns) were among the league's top 11 scorers. Boston had no one in the top 14.

Hagler finished third in rushing with 756 yards in 149 carries, a 5.1 average. Boston placed no one in the top 14. End Reggie Lee caught 41 passes, ninth best in the league, including nine touchdowns. Boston had no one in the top 14.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools has elected Calvert N. Fulmer, principal at Wilmington, Del., high school.

Condemned Negro To Get New Trial After 3 Years 3 Months On Death Row

EDITOR'S NOTE —For the first time since he entered a death-row cell three years ago, Preston Cobb Jr. has been interviewed in prison. This is an exclusive report on that interview — that came only hours before Cobb's murder conviction was set aside — on his 19th birthday.

By DON MCKEE

REIDSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Three years and three months on death row had passed and still Preston Cobb Jr., condemned at 15 to the electric chair, was hopeful of reprieve. "Seems like I've been here all my life," the gangly Negro youth said Thursday in an exclusive prison interview on his 19th birthday.

That was only a few hours before the decision came.

Cobb's interview was ended, he was back in his death-row cell when the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans reversed a lower court and handed the youth the right of a new trial. The appeals judges held that Cobb's rights had been violated by the exclusion of Negroes from the jury that tried him for the slaying of his white employer, 70-year-old Frank Coleman Dumas.

ARGUED OVER FISH

Cobb had said at his trial in August, 1961, that he shot Dumas after an argument over a fish the boy caught in the farm pond. Last year, Cobb denied the killing but said he knew who was guilty.

While the appeals moved their slow course, Cobb spent four birthdays on death row. He has seen five men take the last walk down that corridor in front of his fifth-floor cell.

"I think about getting out the most," he said. And under the appeals court decision, he might be out — but only long enough for the state to re-arrest, reindict and retry him.

QUIT SMOKING

In that prison interview before the decision, Cobb talked quietly of his tenure on death row at Reidsville State Prison.

Cobb said he quit smoking about five months ago. "I didn't like the way the doctors were talking about smoking giving you lung cancer. I got scared and quit," said the youth who has been growing up within sight of the death chamber on the prison's fifth floor.

He was wearing a new pair of black shoes, not exactly a birthday present but a gift sent about a month ago by his mother, who last visited him in May.

GETS GOOD MARKS

The youth talked animatedly about his studies in a correspondence course. He is studying health and general science after completing courses in English, psychology, American history and world literature.

His grades?

"They have been from 80 up to 96," he said. "I failed some tests but I got a review and made it up."

The youth said there had never been a time when he was alone on death row.

Cobb said he hadn't given a lot of thought to what he will do if he gets out, but, "I would like to go back to school first."

BURNS FATAL TO MARSHMAN AFTER CRASH

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Bobby Marshman, a 28-year-old auto racer who held the unofficial speed record for the Indianapolis 500 track, died Thursday of burns received in a high-speed crash-up.

A native of Pottstown, Pa., who was born into a racing family and learned to drive a car on the track at 11, Marshman suffered burns over 90 percent of his body Nov. 27 in an accident at Phoenix, Ariz., that occurred as he was testing tires for a tire company between official races.

He was flown to the Brooke Army Medical Center at San Antonio Nov. 30, where he died. The center has a burn treatment clinic.

HIT RETAINING WALL

Marshman had finished a lap at a speed of more than 115 miles per hour when his Lotus Ford slammed into a retaining wall.

He was sprayed with gasoline and trapped in the cockpit for about a minute as the fuel ignited. As he was extricated, he said to his mechanic, Jack Beckley of Los Angeles:

"Jack, get me to a hospital, quick. I'm burning all over."

Known as a hard-luck driver because he often seemed to be doing well in races only to become plagued with mechanical difficulties, Marshman was named co-rookie of the year with Parnelli Jones after he finished seventh in the Indianapolis in 1961.

THE CHRISTMAS STORY IN CAROLS—I

"O little town of Bethlehem,
How still we see thee lie! . . ."

The words of this famous carol by The Rev. Phillips Brooks were inspired by a visit he made to Bethlehem at Christmastime in 1866. The beautiful tune for the carol was written by his organist, Lewis Redner, while Mr. Brooks was pastor at the Holy Trinity Church in Philadelphia. His faith has given us a carol for all time and a prayer that can be repeated again and again.

"O holy Child of Bethlehem!
Descend to us, we pray;
Cast out our sin and enter in,
Be born in us today! . . ."

Final Figures On Philadelphia Vote

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Certified results from the Nov. 3 election in Philadelphia gave President Johnson a plurality of 430,912 GOP candidate Barry Goldwater.

The results, certified Thursday by the County Board of Elections and sent to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, also gave Democrat Genevieve Blatt a 142,324 plurality in her unsuccessful bid to unseat Republican Sen. Hugh Scott.

The certification showed Johnson with 670,645 votes to 239,733 for Goldwater. Miss Blatt had 523,870 to 381,546 for Scott.

Pa., were at his side when he died. They planned to fly to Pottstown this evening.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Holcombe Funeral Home at Trappe, Pa. Final arrangements were pending.

Other survivors include a son, Robbie, 4, and two sisters.

During time trials at Indianapolis last May, Marshman became the first man clocked at more than a 160 m.p.h. average for one lap. He led that race in the early stages but retired with mechanical troubles.

He had raced at the 500 since 1961 and made his best record with a fifth-place showing in 1962.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Puerto Rican Businessman To Tell Committee Baker's Interests In Caribbean

By WILBUR MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators investigating an alleged political payoff shift sights today to question a witness Republicans once wanted to ask about the role a German beauty played in the Bobby Baker case.

Paul Aguirre, who has business interests in Puerto Rico, was scheduled among the opening witnesses on what could be the windup day of this round of the Senate Rules Committee investigation.

FOUGHT APPEARANCE

In a minority report filed after the committee's first hearings into the outside business activities of Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats, the Republican members said: "The minority unsuccessfully fought to have Mr. Paul Aguirre called as a witness."

"Aguirre could have been asked what part Ellen Rometsch, or other like individuals, had in the promotion of Baker's financial interests or dealings with government officials, government contracts, and others. "He could have been asked what interests Baker had, or sought to acquire for himself or others, in housing, gambling concessions, and other enterprises in the Caribbean area."

NOW IN EUROPE

Mrs. Rometsch is the former wife of a soldier once attached to the West German Embassy here. She was a hostess in a luncheon club in which Baker was interested. She has returned to Europe.

Seven other witnesses were scheduled today, including Milton L. Hauff, who once made out income tax returns for Baker and Don B. Reynolds.

Reynolds has testified he was the "bag man" for Baker and Philadelphia contractor Matthew H. McCloskey in a deal to siphon $25,000 into the 1960 Democratic campaign fund from the McCloskey firm's contract to build the District of Columbia stadium.

McCLOSKEY DENIAL

McCloskey, former ambassador to Ireland and Democratic fund raiser, testified he knew nothing about such a deal.

Testimony Thursday was interrupted by a shouting match between Lennox P. McLendon, special committee counsel, and Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del. Williams triggered this round of the Baker investigation by charging last September in a Senate speech there had been a political payoff.

LEFT HEARING

After Thursday's flareup, Williams stalked out of the hearings and said he wouldn't be back.

The Delaware senator is not a member of the committee, but has been advising Republican members in the often politically tinged and frequently stormy hearings.

It was clear to him, Williams said, "my own assistance is no longer wanted" in the probe. He termed it regrettable his "veracity and integrity" had been challenged in the clash with McLendon.

The tiff started when Williams said he had told McLendon about additional government contracts the McCloskey company handled, but claimed McLendon said he was not interested in them unless it involved Baker and other figures in the current probe.

ACCUSED FALSEHOODS

McLendon said Williams had not talked to him about this, and accused Williams of making "absolutely, unalterably untrue statements."

Williams later charged "I have had my integrity challenged twice. I overlooked it the first time. I always give a man the second opportunity. But no man gets the third opportunity to call me a liar." He added: "My veracity and integrity were challenged by this committee."

Baker was called before the committee on Wednesday but refused to answer any questions about his role in the alleged payoff.

Indict Two Mayors And Councilman

READING, Pa. (AP) — Two former Reading mayors and a former city councilman were indicted Thursday night by the Berks County December grand jury.

Former Mayors John C. Kubacki and Daniel F. McDevitt were charged with extortion and conspiracy, as was former Councilman Bruce R. Coleman.

Kubacki was charged specifically with conspiring with convicted gamblers Abe Minker and Bennie Bonano in an alleged $600 shakedown of the operator of a brothel, in 1961.

McDevitt and Coleman are charged with conspiring to extort $2,000 in 1959 from the successful bidder on three city fire trucks.

PEARL HARBOR NEAR FOR SOME TV PROGRAMS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV—Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Monday will be the 23rd anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor — and it may prove to be a Pearl Harbor for some limping television programs. It will be network television's N day — N for national Nielsen's, the first estimate of program popularity this season which the industry considers really meaningful.

The Nielsen Research Organization reports on its estimates of the size of audiences for network TV shows every two weeks. Monday's report is considered critical because the period covered — the middle two weeks in November — were the first this season when no programs were pre-empted for political broadcasts.

Although there has been a barrage of criticism directed at sampling methods and although the size and composition of the sample — about 1,200 homes to reflect the viewing choices of more than 52 million TV equipped homes — has been questioned, the report is used as the authoritative yardstick by the industry. Millions of dollars and the future of many programs are affected by it.

BEST FOR WEEKEND

The industry expects that Monday's rating will show all three networks running a pretty tight race. But the season's flashy performance is expected to be turned in by ABC, whose strong comedy and action program lineup appears to have pulled it up dramatically over last season's position as a poor third.

"Shop Early, Mail Early, Use Zip Codes" Urged By Nation's Postal Workers

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the time of year the folks at the post office glance nervously at the sky for signs of snow, talk of possible transportation strikes very seriously and, above all, keep their fingers crossed.

For Christmas is exactly three weeks away.

"The peak mailing period is upon us right now," a department spokesman said today as he discussed the delicate delivery system that is designed to get your mail to you before the holiday — not after it.

The deadlines have been posted, the promotional campaign mounted — "Shop early, mail early, use zip codes" — and the trouble spots that turned up in previous years hopefully have been erased.

HOPE FOR BEST

Now about all the Post Office Department can do is hope that all goes smoothly.

One thing it doesn't expect this time is another "Chicago bottleneck," last year's No. 1 problem.

Chicago is especially important because it is the approximate center of the country, and most east-west mail goes through it.

Last December a severe Midwestern storm and subzero temperatures slowed things up. So this year, the Windy City has on its South Side a brand new parcel post facility, inspected just Thursday by the top man himself, Postmaster Gen. John A. Gronouski. And $1 million worth of new mechanical equipment has been added.

CROSS FINGERS

Still, because there is no way of keeping snow from falling, "We're keeping our fingers crossed for the next three weeks," the spokesman said. This month the Post Office Department expects to deliver 7 billion pieces of mail, 300 million more than last December. And it hopes to do it with the help of 145,000 "Christmas assistants," only 2,000 more than the 143,000 extras taken on in 1963 and less than half of the 300,000 hired the year before.

Once again the department is asking for adherence to mail deadlines.

For gift parcels to distant points in the United States the deadline is Saturday, for air parcels to servicemen overseas Dec. 10 is the date, for local gift parcels it is Dec. 14, and for local greeting cards Dec. 15.

Space Rocket To Get Fourth Test

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

— The Atlas-Centaur space rocket is scheduled for its fourth test flight today — an attempt to orbit the Centaur second stage and a metal model of the Project Surveyor moonship.

The launching was scheduled between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

The flight will be a practice mission for landing a Surveyor craft on the moon next year to dig up and analyze samples of lunar landscape and photograph the surface.

TIRE BLOWS UP, KILLS TRUCKER

McCONNELLSBURG, Pa. — (AP)—A tractor-trailer driver was injured fatally Thursday night when a tire of his rig exploded soon after it had been repaired and newly inflated.

The odd accident took the life of William Charles Beunier, about 30, of Patton, Pa.

State police said Beunier was operating his own rig east on the Pennsylvania Turnpike when he stopped at the Path Valley service area near the Kittatinny Tunnel to repair a tire.

Authorities said that after the tire had been repaired, Beunier routinely placed it in a safety rack while being inflated to 80 pounds pressure. He removed it and was rolling it along the ground back to the parked truck when the accident occurred.

Witnesses said Beunier had taken only a few steps when the tire exploded, throwing the driver into the air. Beunier was struck over the left eye by the rim. He fell unconscious to the ground.

Beunier was brought by ambulance to the Fulton County Medical Center here. He was pronounced dead of head injuries by Coroner R. C. McLucas.

ing by to get the driver out. Several men pushed the sagging porch roof up sufficiently to allow the cab door to be opened so that the driver could get out.

Godfrey told state police that he was moving with westbound traffic and when the car ahead of him signaled for a left turn and stopped he touched his brakes to stop also. The cab swerved and hit the house. The truck was loaded with miscellaneous merchandise to be delivered at various stops in Gettysburg and Chambersburg. The driver was unhurt.

Mrs. Boose and her daughter were alone in the house. Her father-in-law, Oliver Boose, 78, had left only minutes before the crash to take her son, Paul, 12, to school. Stella was ill today and her mother planned to take her to the doctor this morning. Both were having a cup of tea at the kitchen table when the accident occurred. Her husband, a truck driver for H&B Trucking Co., Codorus, was hauling stones from Bethlehem Quarries to Fairfield and returned home when he heard of the crash.

DAMAGE OLD STOVE

In addition to the damage to the house and foundation walls, an 1845 cast-iron parlor stove, part of Mrs. Boose's antique collection, and valued at "at least $300," was damaged. A built-in corner cupboard filled with antique glassware and china was jarred by the crash but several pieces of heirloom glassware escaped damage. The cupboard contained a cranberry glass water set, cut glass majolica and a number of pieces of fine china. A walnut marble-top table and hurricane lamp in the bay window appeared to have escaped damage.

Doctors Allow Kennedy To Walk

BOSTON (AP)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., was scheduled to begin increased periods of walking today in his New England Baptist Hospital room.

Hospitalized with a broken back since a plane crash last June 19 in Southampton, Kennedy took his first steps in the Boston hospital Thursday.

Pope Visits

"Goodbye, goodbye," the Pope said. "Bless you, bless you."

20,000 AT MASS

At St. Xavier School stadium, where he celebrated the outdoor Mass, tickets were given 16,000 people and police said at least 4,000 more pushed their way in.

Wearing a crimson cape over his white cassock, Pope Paul appeared first when he arrived but during the ceremony he seemed to gain energy and spoke with vigor about his journey to India.

"We do not feel ourselves a stranger among you," the Pope said. "The Pope is at home wherever the Church is at home. The Church everywhere is closely united to the people in all their efforts for the betterment of the world."

VISITS SCHOOL

After Mass, Pope Paul visited St. Paul's Church nearby. About 200 ill persons sat patiently under rotating ceiling fans, waiting for his blessing.

The midmorning temperature was in the 80s as Pope Paul motored through bumpy slum streets to Don Bosco, a Catholic boys high school.

At the school a crowd of at least 100,000 jammed the streets for two blocks, perching in trees and on balconies and lining the rooftops.

Shortly before the pontiff arrived, the surging throng burst out of control and engulfed a narrow path police were trying to keep for the papal car.

Police in steel helmets brandished lead-weighted bamboo clubs and shoved the crowd back.

YELL INSULTS

People near the front lost their balance. As they fell, crying out in fear and pain, people behind them also toppled. Hundreds of screaming persons were on the ground in an instant.

The crowd yelled insults and obscenities at the pope. But the loudspeaker appeal calmed them as the Pope arrived in a government sedan instead of the white convertible brought from the Vatican for his use. The hardtop sedan apparently was a security measure to protect him from the pressing throngs.

A deafening roar went up as Pope Paul emerged and raised his arms in blessing.

MARKS BIRTHDAY

dusk, they were stopped at the edge of town by Deputy Sheriff Price. Price said they were speeding. He took them to jail.

Price said he released the trio six hours later—around 10 p.m.—after Chaney put up $20 bail bond. The deputy said the youths headed toward Meridian.

They were not seen alive again.

Their disappearance shocked the nation and touched off the most intensive search in Mississippi history. The White House took an active interest.

FIND BURNED CAR

Two days later the charred hulk of their station wagon was spotted at the edge of a snake-infested backwater slough 15 miles northeast of Philadelphia.

State police and waves of FBI agents converged on the hilly, heavily wooded area in a hunt for clues. At President Johnson's order, they soon were joined by 400 sailors from the Meridian Naval Air Station.

Former CIA Director Allen Dulles, acting as a White House troubleshooter, flew to Mississippi for talks with Gov. Paul Johnson, other state officials and civil rights leaders.

SETS UP OFFICE

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover paid a hurried visit to Jackson—the state capital—and set up a separate FBI field office for Mississippi. The state previously had been divided under jurisdictions of the Memphis and New Orleans field offices.

From 50 to 60 FBI agents were assigned fulltime to the office with several score others brought into the state on temporary duty.

Acting on a mysterious tip, FBI agents on Aug. 4 uncovered the bodies of the youths about 20 feet from the top of an earthen dam on "Old Jolly Farm." All three had been shot. Chaney, the Negro, had been beaten.

5 BULLETS IN BODIES

The three youths had been shot with a .38-caliber pistol, the FBI said. Five bullets were recovered from the bodies.

At Johnson City, Tex., President Johnson announced on Aug. 7—three days after the bodies were found—that "substantive results can be expected in a very short time" in the case.

A special federal court jury was convened in September at Biloxi to look into this case and other aspects of the civil rights controversy that rocked Mississippi during the summer and fall.

BALK INDICTMENT

The 23-member grand jury reportedly decided by a one-vote margin against indicting anyone in the slaying.

Rainey, Price and several other Neshoba County residents were indicted on charges of violating the civil rights of Negroes. The alleged offenses occurred from 1962 to early this year.

Each of the men was released on bond. The charges against them are pending.

FEDERAL OFFENSE

Earl Akin and Horne, the FBI said, were charged with misprision of a felony, a federal offense that carries a maximum penalty of three years in prison and a $500 fine.

AMISH MAY GO TO MEXICO

HAZLETON, Iowa (AP)—The possible migration of some Amish families from this settlement to Mexico was reported today.

Word passed around here was that 33 adult members of the religious sect chartered a bus and left last Monday for an area near Acapulco, Mexico, to look over some farm properties.

The group was said to include some Old Order Amish who have been resisting for two years state efforts to require certified teachers for their two private schools.

The travelers are expected back over the weekend.

All the Amish people are farmers and it is not unusual for some to move. The settlement in this northeast Iowa area, however, has drawn wide attention because of the private schools, taught by Amish with eighth grade education. The state contends this does not comply with state law.

About 36 children attend the schools, which the state has threatened to close unless certified teachers are used.

Not all in the group making the trip to Mexico are from families involved in the school controversy.

All the Amish people are farmers and it is not unusual for some to move. The settlement in this northeast Iowa area, however, has drawn wide attention because of the private schools, taught by Amish with eighth grade education. The state contends this does not comply with state law.

About 36 children attend the schools, which the state has threatened to close unless certified teachers are used.

Not all in the group making the trip to Mexico are from families involved in the school controversy.

AMISH MAY GO TO MEXICO

HAZLETON, Iowa (AP)—The possible migration of some Amish families from this settlement to Mexico was reported today.

Word passed around here was that 33 adult members of the religious sect chartered a bus and left last Monday for an area near Acapulco, Mexico, to look over some farm properties.

The group was said to include some Old Order Amish who have been resisting for two years state efforts to require certified teachers for their two private schools.

The travelers are expected back over the weekend.

Yankee Oil Money Spirals Cost Of Living In Tripoli As Islams Chant Prayers

By GEORGE McARTHUR
TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — With the coming of darkness, the muezzin's Koran chant floats nightly from the hilltop Gurgi mosque calling the Islamic faithful to the day's final prayer.

It has been thus in Tripoli for centuries — even before it was famed as the Barbary Coast, a lair for pirates.

Nowadays, a new and discordant refrain is added.

"Craps, snake eyes, Little Joe" rises from the Italian-run casino almost in the shadow of the minaret. Boisterous American oilmen crowd the dice table; oil money covers three busy roulette wheels; slot machines jangle merrily.

TYPICAL OF BOOM

Until the oil boom the casino had been sliding gloomily downhill for years. Its current gaudy affluence emphasizes what is happening in Libya — a placid Mediterranean country being overwhelmed with money.

Horse-drawn gharries that once provided leisurely transportation are giving way to meter taxis, with New York rates. Women clutch their veils tightly in public, peering at the world through one exposed eye. But beneath their shrouded "baracans" some are now sporting sheer stockings and Dior gowns.

TOP OIL COUNTRY

A few years ago Zelten and Dahr were oases known only to desert Bedouins. Now the names designate oilfields famed wherever oilmen gather. They have put this once little-known nation among the world's top 10 oil countries.

As recently as 1960 the bureaucrats of asetic King Idriss got along on $50 million yearly — half of it from American and British handouts and rental for military bases.

Since then, the oil companies, mostly American, have spent more than a billion dollars here. This year Libya will get $150 million in oil income. Next year it will be $230 million. The Esso company is preparing to invest many more millions for plants to liquefy natural gas and ship it to Europe in refrigerated tankers — insuring even more millions for Libya.

EXPENSIVE CITY

All this in a nation with less than 1.5 million mostly illiterate people. These are scattered over 1,500 miles of coastline and deserts almost the size of Western Europe.

It is proving too much. The economy is spiraling wildly. United Nations figures make Tripoli the 13th most expensive city in the world to live in — and getting worse.

Last month the government added to the spiral by doubling civil service salaries. A top bureaucrat will now get about $9,000 yearly, an unthinkable salary only a few years ago. The government newspaper which announced the happy tidings was hardly on the streets before merchants began marking up prices.

POLITICAL QUICKSAND

Responsible oil company officials shuddered. They know they are sitting on political quicksand. They can handle only about 10 per cent of Libya's labor force. The government bureaucracy and private business take in a few more. The rest, now flocking into the cities and, in many cases abandoning farms, are being squeezed by the inflation.

National sensitivity is also mounting over the big U.S. air base at Tripoli and a British base agreement. Money from base rentals is no longer needed and increasingly vocal Arab nationalists want them out.

The bases, oil inflation and rising Arab nationalism create political pressures on 77-year-old King Idriss.

Preferring the isolation of his palace at Tobruk, he rules by long distance and with Oriental suspicion, frequently juggling his ministers.

Such situations are increasingly irksome to the slowly growing number of young officials and students. Until recently politics in Libya largely revolved around separatist movements in the provinces of Tripolitania and Cyrenaica. Now they swirl around the monarchy, particularly the crown prince, the king's nephew.

POPULARITY DROPS

The king's popularity dropped sharply this year at parliamentary elections. His police arrested possible opposition candidates on the eve of the day they were to register.

The U.S. Embassy is watching all this nervously. With more than a billion-dollar investment to protect, it has reasons. The Libyans, however, are more and more disdainful of advice, even from such agencies as the United Nations.

Camera News

By PAUL D. KNISKERN
The Associated Press

EDITORS NOTE: Paul D. Kniskern, 24, has been a staff photographer for the Schenectady, N.Y., Union-Star for three years. Before that, he was a photographer for the Gloversville, N.Y., Leader-Herald. Kniskern's interest in photography developed while he was in high school but he learned his craft later — on the job, picking up tips from other photographers and experimenting on his own. He has had much success photographing children, both newspaper photo assignments and his own two sons.

CHILDREN, I find, are one of the most interesting subjects to photograph. They can go from a crying mood to smiling silly mood in less time than it takes to change a flashbulb. In my five years of taking photographs for newspapers, I have found that children in general are most photogenic when they don't know you are photographing them.

CANDID SHOTS

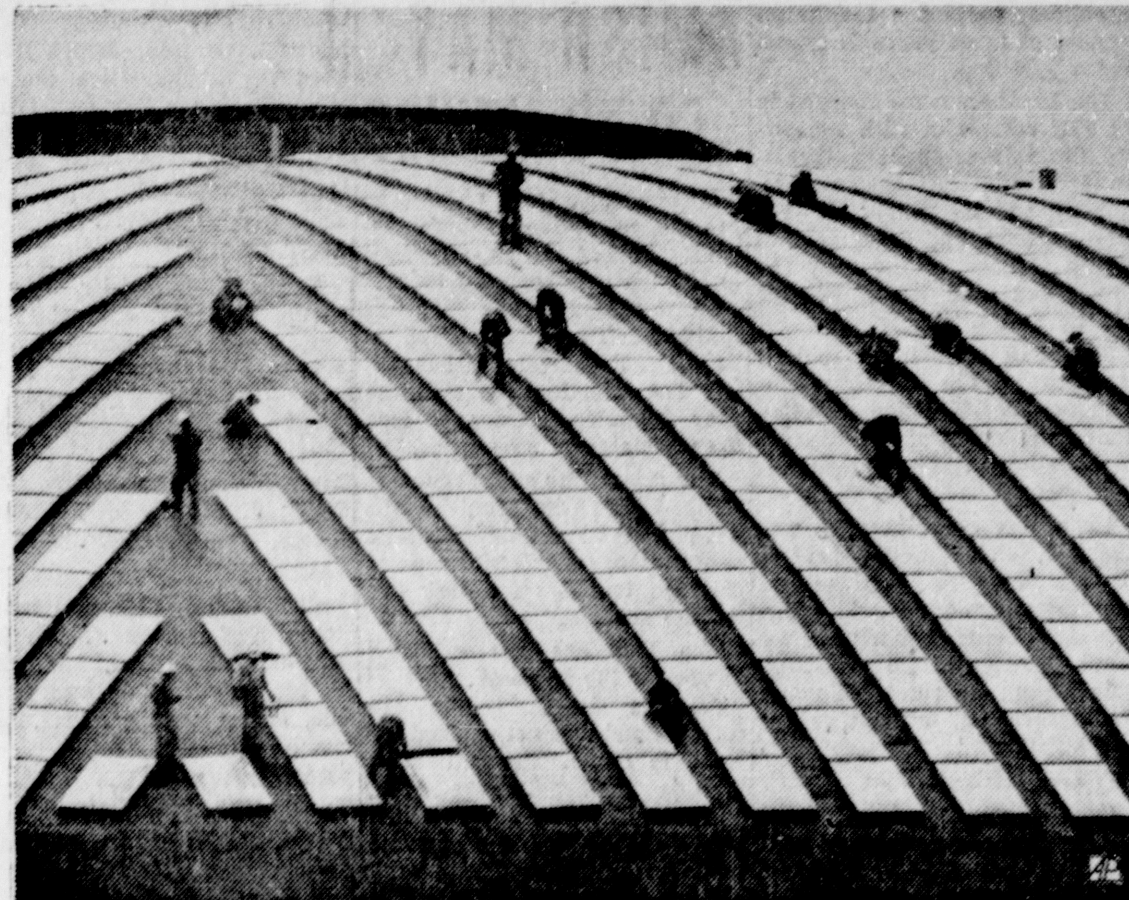

I try to take as many candid shots of children, and adults, as I can. They are more relaxed and more likely to be themselves than if they know they are being photographed. Babies as a rule are the most difficult to photograph as they are too little to understand anything you say and I find I have to take a lot more pictures when photographing babies than I do with a little older child.

Children from about 4 to 8, especially boys, are great hams. Whenever there's a camera about I find them running in front of the camera, making faces and doing anything to draw the photographer's attention. One of the most often asked questions by children when you come to an assignment loaded down with cameras, tripods, light meters, etc., is "Are you a photographer?" The second most asked question when you finish taking the picture is "Can I see the picture now?"

IN ALL SIZES

Children, like cars, come in all sizes, shapes and colors and are equally temperamental. When faced with a camera, a child that has been the showoff for the past hour will become a crying sulky child who refuses to be photographed. Likewise, a shy little girl will suddenly become the biggest clown of all times, making silly faces, giggling such as only little girls can do. And no matter how old they are, they are always, but always, have to run find a mirror.

In the past five years, I have had many experiences while photographing children but none

COVER FOR COVER — Workmen paint the areas around the 4,596 skylights on roof of the new domed stadium in Houston, Texas. The skylights are 7 x 4 feet and will permit sufficient light in the stadium to permit day games without any artificial lighting.

that made me feel as silly as one last winter. It had been snowing all night and on my way to work, I saw some children sliding down a hill on their feet. They would start at the top, run down the hill part way and then slide the rest of the way to the bottom on their feet. Thinking that this would make a good weather shot, I approached the children and asked them if they would do that one more time so I could get a few pictures.

A GOOD SLIDE

Thrilled that they would be in the newspaper, they went to the top, ran extra hard and got a good slide in while I took their pictures. However one boy was going so fast that when he neared the bottom he saw that he wasn't going to stop. He threw himself down in the snow, continued coming and slammed into me — sending myself, cameras and all sprawling off the sidewalk and into the street in front of a car. Luckily no one was hurt and the driver of the car thought that it was such a comical thing he sat holding up traffic for a good five minutes before he could control his laughing enough to drive on.

ANOTHER TIP

Another tip for photographing children is patience. If the photographer hasn't got it, chances are there won't be many good pictures of children. I have waited as long as 15 to 20 minutes as a time to take one picture while the mother has pleaded with and threatened the child to be good and let the nice man take her picture. When she was done, I started talking with the child, and got her amused with a toy and finally she let me pose her for the picture. Another way to get good pictures is to let some one distract the child while you shoot.

To sum it all up: Be patient, shoot lots of pictures, try candid shots and when all else fails, sometimes a bribe of an ice cream cone or candy bar will work.

Discoverer Of New Planet Heads Astronomical Study

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — The stars shone brightly in the sky above Flagstaff, Ariz., in the early months of 1930. At Lowell Observatory, Clyde Tombaugh, 24, scanned the heavens nightly as a "sky watcher."

Huddled in overcoat and blankets in the cold dome of the observatory (7,000 feet elevation) he made photographic plates which he checked every day.

On the afternoon of Feb. 18, Tombaugh checked his plates as usual in the Blink microscope-comparator — an instrument for comparing plates for the motion of objects. There it was — what he'd been looking for — a new planet.

He had discovered Pluto, smallest of the planets and farthest from the sun.

Today, Tombaugh is in charge of astronomical research and associate professor of earth sciences at New Mexico State University's Research Center.

NAMED PLUTO

The planet was named Pluto

for the ancient god of darkness and the underworld because of its great distance from the sun. For Clyde Tombaugh, the identification of Pluto was the end of long months of tedious, painstaking search.

"A triumph or me?" he says. "Yes, in some measure, but more so for all astronomers since 1905, when the late Percival Lowell proposed that irregularities in the orbit of Uranus indicated the presence of another planet in the sky."

Pluto is visible only through large telescopes, for it's nearly four billion miles and six light hours away from the earth. It is yellowish in color, with an estimated diameter of 3,100 to 3,600 miles, about half that of the earth. Pluto has a rotation period of more than six days in contrast to less than one day for most planets and it revolves around the sun once in 248 years.

Tombaugh, who had trained himself, in astronomy on his parents' farm in Kansas, got the job at Lowell Observatory in 1929 — "on trial," he says. He was hired on the basis of his drawings of canals and other interesting features of Mars and Jupiter, submitted with the application.

Tombaugh, born near Street, or, Ill., in 1906, became interested in geography as a child and enjoyed making maps. By the age of 12, his interest in the earth was transferred to other planets. He read books on astronomy and borrowed a three-inch telescope from an uncle who was an amateur star-gazer.

"After finishing high school, I ground mirrors for more powerful telescopes," Tombaugh says. "By 1928, I had a nine-inch reflecting telescope yielding good images. I mounted it on a cream separator base. With it, I made the drawings which I sent to Lowell Observatory in 1929, when I applied for

DRASTIC CUT EXPECTED IN U. S. DEFENSE

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time in two years, defense officials appear to be preparing for major surgery on military reserve forces.

Just what form that surgery will take is not yet clear. Studies have been under way in both the Air Force and the Army.

The service recommendations are awaited by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who will make the final decisions.

Indications point to possible heavy losses for the Army and Air Force Reserve, perhaps virtual elimination of the Reserve and its merger with the National Guard.

ERASE WASTE

The aim of any new streamlining would be elimination of wasteful and cumbersome duplication and strengthening of the readiness of Reserve forces which cost about $2 billion a year to support.

Pentagon planners find it hard to understand why the Army and Air Force should maintain dual organizations — the Reserve and the National Guard — serving essentially the same purpose.

Little fault is found with the Marine Reserve whose 45,000 men would form a fourth Marine division and supporting air wing.

Officials claim it would be ready to go overseas in 30 days from call-up.

NAVAL RESERVE

The Naval Reserve also escapes serious criticism, although officials feel it should be held to 126,000 sea-trained men rather than a larger force including thousands of men who do not train regularly.

It is in the nearly 400,000-man Army Guard and 300,000-man Army Reserve — as well as the 61,000-man Air Force Reserve — that defense officials profess to find flab.

The 75,000-man Air Guard stands in pretty high esteem with these officials. McNamara's emphasis, so far as the Guard and Reserve are concerned, is on swift readiness for use in cold war or limited war situations.

He became disenchanted with them because of the slowness with which Army Guard units, reinforced by reservists, rounded into shape during the 1961-1962 Berlin crisis. Two Guard divisions needed five months to get ready after entering federal service.

my first job as an astronomer."

MILLIONS OF IMAGES

Following his discovery of Pluto, Tombaugh continued to work at Lowell Observatory in planetary research. He estimates that he examined 90 million star images during his 13 years there searching for other possible planets. In the late 1930s he went to the University of Kansas on scholarships for undergraduate and graduate degrees.

Tombaugh taught physics and celestial navigation in the Navy program at Arizona State College during World War II and later was on the staff of the University of California at Los Angeles.

In 1946 he came to White Sands Missile Range to apply the techniques of planetary astronomy to photographing rockets in flight, with a movie camera on a tracking telescope. He also worked out the basis for tracking small, natural satellites which was later used for tracking artificial satellites.

Tombaugh has been combining research and teaching at New Mexico State University since 1955.

He believes that intelligent life may exist on other planets belonging to other stars. "There are 200 billion other suns like ours in the Milky Way system alone," he points out. "Probably 10 per cent of these have planetary systems. It's possible that hundreds of millions of planets may have intelligent life."

What good is the exploration of space?

"The same question was asked when electricity was first studied," Tombaugh says. "New knowledge will help us to understand our own earth. Perhaps find new resources to supplement the earth's dwindling supplies of energy and materials. The conquest of space is the great new frontier. It is virtually without limit. Eventually, we must meet the challenge."

If that container of frozen fruit (in syrup) holds about a pint, it will need six to eight hours thawing time in the refrigerator or about three hours at room temperature.

SANTA and the SINGING TURTLE

CHAPTER ONE SANTA AND THE SINGING TURTLE

Once upon a time in the far-away Kingdom of Razenpie there ruled a wicked king named Kerchew. He was mean and greedy and terrible-tempered. He rushed around all day shouting orders:

"Do this! Do that! Bring me this! Take that away!"

He sputtered these orders so explosively they sounded like a steady stream of sneezes and that is why he was called King Kerchew.

To make matters worse, he wasn't even a real king. The true king was a little boy named Frederick Chadwick Anthony Matthew Christopher John, called Prince Chad, for short. Kerchew was Chad's uncle and was merely acting king until the boy was old enough to rule.

GETS MEANER

The laws of the kingdom said the Prince would be old enough to take the throne on the next Christmas Day and at that time Kerchew would have to step down.

Old Kerchew hated the thought of giving up his power and as Christmas got closer and closer, he became meaner and meaner. He kept the schools open from dawn to dusk so the children wouldn't run around the streets and disturb him. He decreed that no one outside the palace should have dessert except on the first Monday of every third month. He ordered everyone to be in bed by 8 o'clock to save on light and fuel. He threw people who disobeyed him into prison and he threatened every day to chop off the heads of any who spoke against him.

BURNS CALENDARS

He ordered all the calendars in the land burned so no one would know Christmas was coming. He banned all Christmas shopping and all Christmas decorations.

Meanwhile Prince Chad quietly waited. He was a gentle boy who liked to dream and read of heroes and adventure. He did not know that Kerchew dreaded Christmas. He did not know any of Kerchew's wicked deeds, because the old ruler had kept his ways secret from the boy and encouraged the Prince to spend all his time in his own room dreaming over his books.

SOON TO TAKE THRONE

But Chad knew the day was soon coming when he would take the throne and he had many plans. He intended to be a kind and noble king and bring happiness to the people of Razenpie and he could hardly wait to take his rightful place on the throne. But, to tell the truth, at the moment he was more excited about Christmas than about becoming king.

One day, when Christmas was only a week off, the Prince was having lunch with Kerchew. He said, "Uncle, I want to give a big Christmas party for everyone in the Kingdom."

Kerchew dropped his fork and sputtered like a firecracker. The bread pudding he had been eating spattered in every direction. "WON'T HAVE IT!"

"Never!" he finally managed to roar. "I won't have it!" "But, Uncle," said Chad. "I have already written Santa Claus asking him to bring special presents for everyone to the palace."

"I saw the letter," snapped Kerchew. "I ordered it burned. And I'll burn up any such letter you write!" Chad stared at his uncle in astonishment. Then he put down his napkin and stood up. "In that case," he said quietly, "I'll go myself."

"Go where?" "To Santa Land," said the Prince leaving the room.

Kerchew's eyes bulged and his face grew purple. He pounded the table with his fists. "Womp!" he roared.

And so our story begins.

"Womp!"

KERCHEW'S SLAVE

Womp was Kerchew's slave. He was only two feet tall and he was as wicked as his master. Some said he was a man with magic powers.

He popped into the room, and Kerchew cried, "Stop that boy! He's not king yet!"

Womp grinned. "I heard all master," he said. "And if I were you I'd let him go."

"No!" roared Kerchew. "I am still king."

"If he goes," persisted Womp, "perhaps it can be arranged that he never return and you will always be king."

Kerchew fell back in his chair. A big smile slowly split his face. "Ah, yes," he whispered. "Arrange it, Womp! Arrange it!"

BREZHNEV HITS CONGO RESCUE, OFFERS RED AID

By FRED W. COLEMAN

MOSCOW (AP) — Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Soviet Communist party chieftain, denounced Thursday the Western paratroop landing in the Congo and also said the Soviet Union is ready to help North Viet Nam.

But, in reiterating stands already taken by the Kremlin, Brezhnev withheld any specific pledge of direct Soviet intervention in either area.

He called the paratroop landing in the Congo a "surprising example of imperialist piracy" and said Western aims there are doomed to failure.

On Viet Nam, he repeated the words of an "authorized statement" made a week ago by the official Soviet news agency Tass:

"SISTER" COUNTRY

"The Soviet Union cannot remain indifferent to the fate of a sister Socialist country and is prepared to render the necessary assistance to her." There was no elaboration by either Tass or Brezhnev.

Brezhnev spoke at a Soviet-Czechoslovak friendship meeting honoring visiting Czech President Antonin Novotny.

Brezhnev again denounced the proposed NATO multilateral nuclear force as "a dangerous game" to give West Germany access to nuclear weapons. Here he made his only mention of Red China, saying: "Recently the Chinese have joined this view."

CHINESE VIEW

Apparently he was referring disarming meeting, made after Red China exploded its first atom bomb.

Brezhnev, Nikita Khrushchev's successor as first secretary of the party, also repeated the familiar Soviet position on Cuba.

"Economic blockade, provocations, violations of the sovereignty of Cuba seriously poison not only the atmosphere in the Caribbean area but also the international climate as a whole," he said.

Michigan State halfback Dick Gordon's 199-yard rushing effort against Wisconsin was the fifth largest single-game rushing total in Big Ten history.

It's getting so that a man's birthday can be the unhappiest day of his life, and the state department of revenue is the culprit that's paying the way for natal miseries.

It's not bad enough that we all get older every 365 days; now the state adds insult to injury by making us renew our driver's license before we can celebrate our birthdays. It's like paying admission to your own show.

Think of what this system can lead to eventually:

The Internal Revenue Service could adopt the same system, and we would have to pay up or no cake.

This is the sort of thing that will encourage everyone over 16 to dispense with birthdays, a practice which heretofore has been reserved for women between the ages of 29 and 30, and for men between the ages of 40 and 80. For some reason, most of us like to brag about our ages only if we have accomplished some outstanding feat because of youth or because of advanced age such as becoming a vice president at the age of 39 or winning a foot race at the age of 80; and these are about the only times in life when you can find out the exact age of almost anyone you know.

But the department of revenue has gone another step too far. It has stripped us of even the secret of age. It not only calls for our license renewals on our birthdays, it also lists our birthdates on the driver's licenses for everyone to see. It's bad enough to have the arresting officer know how old we are when he pulls us off the highway—and he frequently will make some comment about "old enough to know better," or "too old to be drag racing." But now we are being forced to carry big wads of cash everywhere, for what self-respecting citizen is going to show his driver's license to a clerk simply to cash a check? Mere identification is one thing, but revealing your age is quite another.

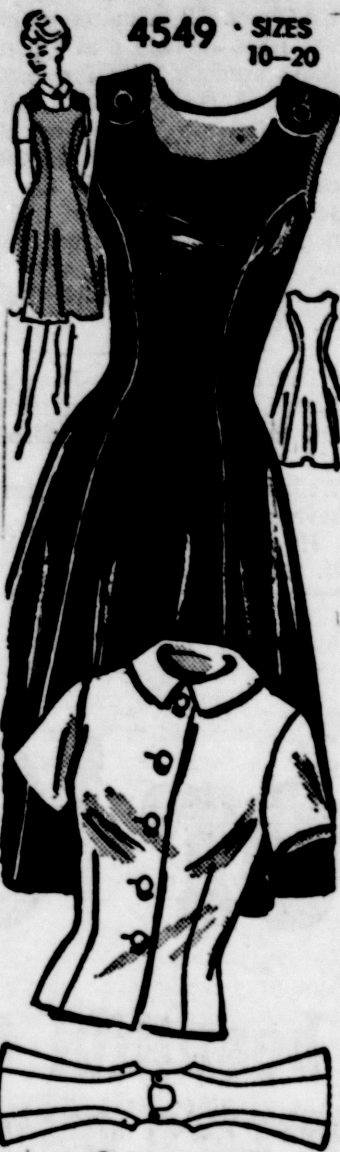

The whole thing could and should lead to open rebellion.

We recommend the formation of a new organization: SPPS, Society for the Protection of Personal Secrets—with a National Month for emphasizing the point.

That would be every month in the year if there are at least 11 other insurgents whose birthdays fall in months other than December!

We salute and commiserate with the ladies.

Does Gettysburg Need A TV Antenna System?

There has been much discussion in Gettysburg recently over the proposed installation of a community television antenna rental service. This service (commonly called Cable TV) has also been much discussed at recent meetings of Town Council. Because of the nature of many of the questions being asked, it is apparent that many people simply do not understand what an antenna rental service can offer. The following paragraphs should clarify the position of the Gettysburg TV Cable Co.:

Antenna Outside Of Town

An antenna rental service means that there is an antenna erected somewhere outside the town where reception is flawless. This flawless signal is then "piped" or transmitted by wire throughout the town much as a telephone system. Anyone wishing to avail himself of the service may do so for a small monthly charge. A wire is then installed into his home and the TV set is connected.

Customer Benefits

Once connected, the cable customer enjoys excellent TV reception on all channels available. He receives the same programs he received before with nothing added or taken away, but with far superior reception. No one has forced him to rent a connection. If he chose, he could continue to utilize his own roof antenna. But now that he is connected, he can forget about aerial worries. He need not concern himself with storms, rusty or weak guy wires, falling pieces, roof damage, or liability insurance. New innovations like the new educational TV channel (33) is added without additional expense. If he should move to another part of town, he need not worry about tearing down and erecting an aerial. His set is connected to the cable at his new address free of charge.

Will Cable TV Eventually Mean Pay TV?

Most emphatically not! There is no similarity between Cable TV and Pay TV. Pay TV is generally a system where a subscriber pays so much per program. Cable TV is a signal reception service and not a programming service. If there were an end to free TV, there would be no Cable TV. Presumably, should Pay TV become a going enterprise, Congress would lay down strict rules to protect the public, the perpetuation of free TV, and the continuation of Cable TV. As things stand now, Pay TV is almost a dead issue since the last elections. If, however, Pay TV becomes available on the airways, I would want the antenna rental customers to be able to avail themselves of it as well as the person using his own aerial. This was one of the subjects under discussion at a recent Town Council meeting.

Will Cable TV Affect Present Reception?

Again—No. Actually a cable system is not new in Gettysburg. Every motel in town has one. Ask anyone who lives next to a motel about interference. Motels erect an aerial, amplify the signal, and distribute it to individual rooms. The community system is basically the same, only on a larger scale.

No Interference From Traffic

Ignition interference from traffic or electrical disturbances from machinery, etc., is nonexistent on Cable. The customer would not be annoyed with FM interference on channel 13.

Extraordinary Color Reception

Anyone who has visited neighboring towns where an antenna rental system is available and has seen it demonstrated in a friend's home will tell you color reception is excellent. A few of the TV store owners of Gettysburg are perceptive enough to realize that an aerial rental service means a boost in TV set sales, especially color. These profits far outshine those of installing antennae. The figures from store owners in those neighboring towns verify this easily.

Unsightly Aerials

Several years ago during the "Campaign Gettysburg" effort, sponsored by the JC's, there was much discussion deploring the unsightly aerial situation in the downtown area. A cable, of course, alleviates this situation considerably.

Boon To Landlords

An antenna rental service is a natural for people in transit and staying in town only a few months. Others are deprived of a roof antenna because of landlord restrictions. A cable connection causes no property damage, yet enables the tenant to receive excellent TV.

A Locally Owned Company

Gettysburg TV Cable Co. is a locally owned company. The money derived from rentals stays in the community. It would hire local people . . . technicians, manager, office help, etc. It would pay rent and taxes at the local level. It would purchase trucks, office supplies, newspaper ads, etc. It should be recognized as a valuable addition to the community.

In summation, what all this amounts to is an aerial reception similar to what everyone is receiving now, but vastly improved in number of channels and freedom from interference.

These above statements should erase any doubts for many people, although any comments or questions anyone may have are, of course, invited.

SEE ARMCHAIR TREND IN TV PA PROGRAMS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — Fads — or trends, as they are called in television — infect public affairs programs as they do entertainment programs.

A few seasons back, the vogue was for the controversial, even daring, approach often accompanied by a strongly editorial point of view. Those were the days when NBC's "white paper" series tackled everything from Soviet leadership to public welfare philosophies and when "CBS Reports" worked with hidden cameras to expose a Boston bookmaking establishment.

Lately, it seems, the networks are all off on an armchair tour.

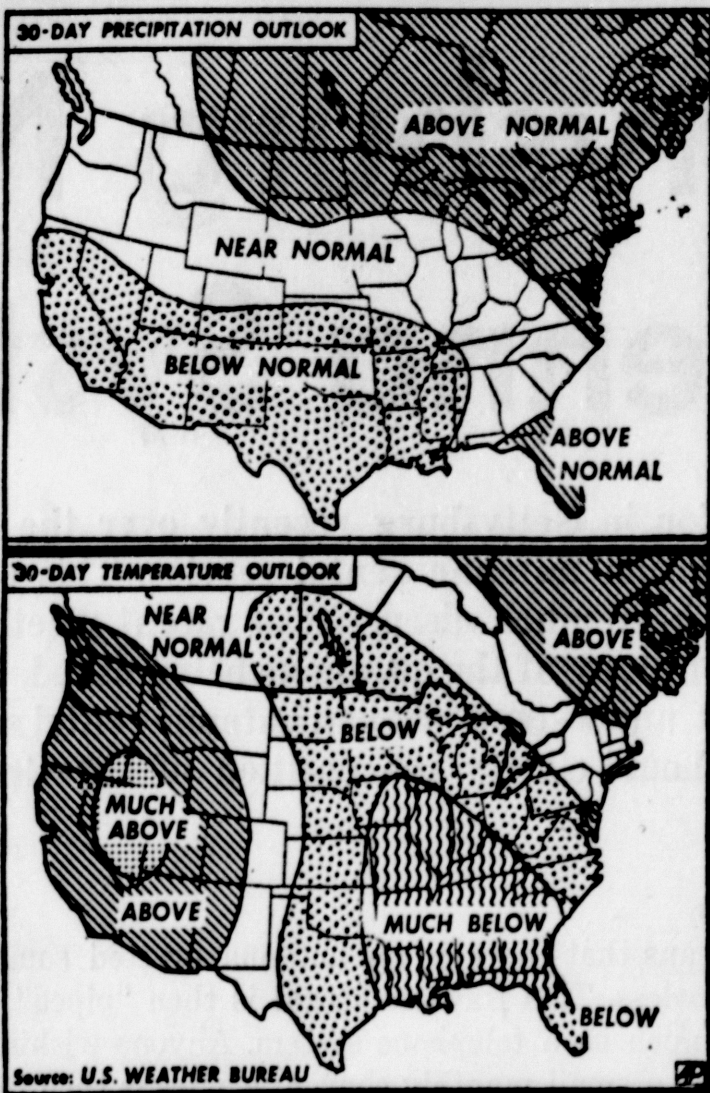

INTERESTING TOUR

Wednesday night CBS in a news department production called "Five Faces of Tokyo," gave us an hour trip around the Japanese city.

It was on the whole an interesting visit but the program was probably one of those undertakings that looked a lot better in blueprint than on our television screens.

The idea was to have five to

FIDEL'S FIGHT BURDENS SWISS EMBASSY UNIT

By GEOFFREY ATKINS
BERN, Switzerland (AP) — The poor state of Fidel Castro's relations with a number of nations is causing headaches in an unexpected quarter — the Swiss diplomatic service.

Neutral Switzerland now represents the interests in Cuba of eight countries that have broken relations with the Castro regime. The United States was the first, in 1961. Argentina, Guatemala, Honduras, Chile, Brazil, Ecuador and Venezuela followed.

ENLARGE STAFF

In 1960, Switzerland had an ambassador and a first secretary as its entire diplomatic staff in Havana. Now there are 13 diplomats and a team of clerks, typists and office workers.

By far the most work in Havana is done on behalf of the United States, which had large interests in Cuba before Castro took over.

"We have issued over 2,000 Swiss protection passports to American citizens still in Cuba," a senior Swiss official said. "But there are still a number who have not registered with our embassy in Havana."

The Cuban government recognizes the Swiss protection passport although it does not give the holder the rights of a normal passport.

An American law decrees that U.S. visas and passports must be signed by an official of an American consulate or embassy. As none of these are now in Cuba, any American whose passport has expired has to go through a complicated procedure to go to the United States.

COMPLICATED PLAN

With his Swiss protection passport, he goes to the Mexican Embassy. There he applies for a Mexican transit visa. With it he can fly to Mexico City where the American Embassy gives him an American visa.

The procedure is also difficult for Americans wishing to get information on friends or relatives in Cuba.

They must write to the State Department which forwards the request to the Swiss government in Bern which in turn sends it on to the Havana Embassy.

The Swiss also intercede for any Americans who accidentally land on Cuban territory. Switzerland receives no fee for the extra work but the other countries pay expenses.

More TV Service Men Own RCA VICTOR COLOR TV Than All Other Makes Combined*

* Based on findings of a survey of independent service men conducted by Trendex Inc., May, 1964.

And that's not all. The same survey showed that more service men considered RCA Victor to be the best brand of color TV. This resounding vote of confidence further demonstrates that RCA Victor is the most widely proved color TV you can buy.

A Lovelie! You

By MARY SUE MILLER

KEEP YOUR SHOES ON! Many

her way home wishing she could carry her shoes in her hand. For sure she kicks them off the moment she reaches her front door.

Why should "perfectly good" shoes suddenly begin to pinch? We girls err on two counts in the footwear we wear shopping. We err on the side of vanity and hobble about on spindle heels.

kyo residents from different walks of life and social classes show us their city from their viewpoints.

If the program had stuck with any one of these for the hour, it would have been much more interesting and enlightening. Five people were too many and much of the time it was hard to know whose eyes we were looking through.

FEK REPLACEMENT

Producers of NBC's "Mr. No-vak" will start immediately hunting for a replacement for Dean Jagger, forced to quit the show because of a return of an ulcer condition. Jagger co-starred as a high school principal, Mr. Vane, while James Franciscus, in the title role, plays a young English teacher.

Or we wear old, sprung shoes, thinking they'll be comfortable as bedroom slippers.

For long hours of standing and walking, neither type of shoe is comfortable. Both tire the feet, legs, shoulders and even the face. The saving footwear is a well-fitted all leather walking shoe. Such styles give support without constraint, absorb the shock of pavement pounding and let the feet breathe.

Other than proper shoes, there are several aids to foot comfort: A lotion massage, prior to donning shoes, helps to prevent burning sensations. Dusted inside shoes, foot powder relieves excessive perspiration. Carry a small shaker of it in your handbag for refreshment purposes.

To bolster fatigue-prone legs, wear support stocks. Avoid wearing rubbers or storm boots indoors. You need them for protection on wet days, but do remove them as soon as you reach your destination.

When you return home, give your feet a sudsy soak and a cologne massage. That way, they are conditioned for the next round.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By S. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE BISHOP FAMILY
The genealogical data on the Bishop family of Littlestown, Pa., is continued at this time with additional notes from the "Adams Sentinel" (later the "Star and Sentinel").

7. Monday, April 17, 1836—Married, March 28, 1836, by Z. Herbert, Esq., of this County, Mr. David Bishop to Miss Margaret Strausbaugh, both of Hamilton Township, this County.

(Note:—An unknown branch on the Bishop family tree which cannot be definitely identified at this time.)

8. Monday, September 3, 1838—Married, Monday, August 27, 1838, by the Rev. Mr. Smith of this County, Mr. Thomas Heim to Mrs. Sarah Bishop, both of Littlestown, this County.

(Note:—In the Bishop family plot in Mount Carmel Cemetery, Littlestown, there is a marker to the memory of "Sarah Bishop, wife of Christian Bishop." There is every reason to believe that this is the Sarah Bishop who, after the death of her first husband in 1833, married Thomas Heim. As so often happened the widow was buried beside her first husband and under his name.)

9. Monday, August 19, 1839—Died, August 10, 1839, Mr.

Dietrick Bishop, of Germany Township, this County, in the 84th year of his age."

(Note:—Another unknown twig on the Bishop family tree but undoubtedly a member of the original pioneer family—being a "resident of Germany Township, this County.")

In the Bishop family burial plot in Mount Carmel graveyard the following members of the family are interred. The majority of the bodies were moved from the churchyard of the Littlestown United Brethren in Christ burial ground—late in the nineteenth century.

1. "Sacred to the memory of—Philip Bishop, Sen.—Who departed this life in 1831—Aged 78 years.—Also Barbara—first wife of—Philip Bishop, Sen.—who departed this life—in the year 1810—Aged 51 years."

(Note:—The founder of the family in Littlestown—the senior Philip Bishop came to this vicinity in 1808. This man gave the United Brethren Church the land for their edifice and burial ground in Littlestown.)

2. "Sacred—to the memory of—Mary Bishop,—second wife of Philip Bishop, Sen.—Died December 29, 1847—Aged 87 years."

(Notes:—The second wife of the pioneer member of the Bishop family.

3. "In memory of—Mary Bishop—daughter of Philip and Barbara BISHOP—Born June 29, 1786—November 20, 1836."

(Note:—The obituary of Mary Bishop appeared in the "Adams Sentinel" on November 28, 1836. She was first interred in the burial ground of the United Brethren in Christ Church but the body was later removed to Mount Carmel.

4. "In memory of—Ann Heims—wife of Thomas Heims—Died October 4, 1837—Aged 58 years, 5 months—and 24 days."

(Note:—It will be remembered that Sarah, the widow of Christian Bishop, married Thomas Heim in 1833. This was undoubtedly an interfamily relationship and for that reason Ann Heims was interred in the Bishop family plot.

5. "In memory of—Catharine Bishop, wife of—Philip Bishop—Died July 2, 1843—Aged 47 years—and 6 months."

(Note:—The wife of Philip Bishop Jr., and the daughter-in-law of Philip, Sen., the founder of the family in the Littlestown area.)

6. "In memory of—Lucinda Bishop, daughter of Philip and Catharine—Bishop—Died February 24, 1843—Aged 17 years, 7 months—and 8 days."

(Note:—The daughter of Philip Jr., and Catharine Bishop and the granddaughter of Philip Bishop Sr., the donor of the land for the United Brethren in Christ Church and burial ground. This girl was first buried in this churchyard but her body was later removed, along with others, to the Mount Carmel cemetery.

7. "In memory of—Philip Bishop—Born November 22, 1781—Died June 10, 1836—Aged 54 years, 6 months—and 18 days."

(Note:—The son of Philip, Sen., and Barbara Bishop, his first wife, who, in company with other members of his family, was first interred in the United Brethren in Christ churchyard. The body was later removed to Mount Carmel.)

8. "Simon S. Bishop—Born February 10, 1817—Died April 5, 1898."

(Catharine Stonifer—wife of Simon S. Bishop—Born May 1, 1825—Died March 18, 1903.

"Laura V. Bishop—wife of Henry S. Stauffer—Died April 30, 1923." (No age given.)

(Note:—Simon Bishop was the grandson of Philip Bishop, Sen., the pioneer founder of the family in Littlestown. As stated in last week's column this man helped many important civic offices and discharged his duties well and carefully. The daughter of Simon and Catharine (Stonifer) Bishop married Henry S. Stauffer. Her name is on her parents' tombstone.)

9. "In memory of—Lloyd Norris—Died July 28, 1877—Aged 40 years, 5 months,—and 6 days."

(Note:—Lloyd Norris apparently married a granddaughter of Philip Bishop, Sen.)

10. "In memory of—Ellen S. Bishop—wife of—Lloyd Norris—Died January 28, 1888—Aged 54 years, 10 months,—and 10 days."

(Note:—Granddaughter of Philip Bishop, Sen., and wife of the Lloyd Norris mentioned above.)

11. "Dr. Aaron L. Bishop—Died October 14, 1897—Aged 74 years, 5 months,—and 6 days."

"Sarah A. Bishop—wife of Dr. Aaron L. Bishop—Died March 19, 1894—Aged 80 years, 9 months,—and 27 days."

"Jeremiah Bender—Born January 26, 1829—Died December 13, 1908."

"Delilah Bender—wife of Jeremiah Bender—Died April 23, 1898—Aged 64 years, 7 months,—and 5 days."

(Note:—The late Dr. Henry Stewart, in his "Medical Profession of Adams County," has this to say of Dr. Aaron L. Bishop:—"Practiced in Littlestown 1856 to 1881. Graduate of the University of New York March 1, 1847. Registered July 15, 1881. Married in 1853."

The notes on the Bishop family will be concluded in this

MUSIC CENTER OPENS SUNDAY WITH HEIFETZ

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—This is the weekend when cultural Los Angeles takes its big leap forward.

Amid fanfares and furbelows, the magnificent new Music Center will open its doors for the first time Sunday. The initial concert features Jascha Heifetz making a rare appearance as soloist.

The event will mark the culmination of a five-year drive by music lovers led by Mrs. Norman Chandler of the publishing family. Seeking a proper home for symphony, grand and light opera, concert and drama in Los Angeles, they raised $18.5 million from local citizens. County-guaranteed bonds added to the $33.5 million total.

THREE AUDITIONS
The pavilion is the first and biggest of the three auditoriums—a normal theater and smaller one in the round will follow later. The entrance is massively impressive.

Inside are spacious, marble-floored lobbies and a spectacular center staircase reminiscent of the Paris opera. It almost seems too big until you realize you are seeing it without people. They will make the difference.

Likewise the interior is deceptively large with the seats unfilled. Actually the 3,250-seat Music Center is more intimate than the cavernous Shrine and Philharmonic auditoriums which previously housed long-hair events. And the European seating—no center aisles—adds to the note of intimacy.

SIMPLE ELEGANCE

All is done with simple elegance. There is no overpowering chandelier, only small ones to add shimmering light on the side walls. The major feature is the golden shell which extends from the back of the stage, over the proscenium and into the hall.

The philharmonic was rehearsing the Beethoven Ninth Symphony. The conductor, Zubin Mehta, 29, was still tinkering with the acoustics.

I asked his opinion of the center's acoustics. The sound in New York's Philharmonic Hall in Lincoln Center, you may recall, proved somewhat disastrous.

"The sound here is the best of any modern music hall," he replied. "The old ones? They are better, but they are not big."

The shell makes the difference, he observed. Also the side

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—A three-alarm fire Wednesday caused heavy damage to the W. A. Larmore Inc. furniture warehouse.

Some 200 city firemen fought the blaze for more than six hours.

KEATON TO MAKE RAILROAD FILM

HALIFAX (AP)—Hollywood silent star Buster Keaton has arrived here to start making a transcontinental two-reeler for the National Film Board, tentatively titled "Rail-roader." The 68-year-old comic will travel coast to coast on a gas-powered railway "speeder" for the silent documentary in color.

Senator Says Baker Case Needs Justice Department

By WILBUR MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Carl T. Curtis said Thursday it's up to the Justice Department to square conflicting testimony about an alleged secret payoff to the Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund in 1960.

The Nebraska Republican said the issue has boiled down to "one man says yes, another says no, and the third man takes the Fifth Amendment and won't talk."

Matthew H. McCloskey, 71, former ambassador to Ireland, Wednesday accused insurance man Don B. Reynolds of lying when Reynolds swore McCloskey was a part of the alleged payoff scheme.

SAYS REYNOLDS LIED

"He hasn't told you the truth once," the white-haired former Democratic National Committee fund raiser snapped.

Baker, the man who Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., said "could talk" and square the conflict in Reynolds and McCloskey's testimony, refused to answer questions about his role in the alleged kickback.

Reynolds told the Senate Rules Committee Tuesday he was the "bag man" for Baker and McCloskey.

He testified he wrote the performance bond for McCloskey's construction firm when it built the Washington, D.C., sports stadium and was overpaid on the premium by $35,000.

Reynolds said he gave Baker $25,000, kept $10,000 for himself, and that Baker was to funnel the money into the campaign fund.

BAKER TAKES FIFTH

Baker is a former $19,600-a-year secretary to the Senate Democratic majority. An earlier inquiry into his outside business activities by the committee found him "guilty of many gross improprieties."

The nattily dressed former page boy refused to answer questions 46 times Wednesday, invoking his constitutional protection against possible self-incrimination.

McCloskey denied heatedly any knowledge of the payoff deal described by Reynolds.

"I don't care what he testified," the retired builder said.

A copy of a letter from Reynolds billing McCloskey for a performance bond on the contract was placed in evidence.

BOND BROKERAGE

William K. Stewart, financial vice president of the McCloskey firm, testified he worked out a deal with Reynolds and Baker whereby Reynolds' insurance company could be brokers of record on the bond and general liability insurance for the project.

Reynolds billed McCloskey for the amount of both premiums and was paid $109,205.60, Stewart said. He added Reynolds was supposed to deduct his commissions and then pay the agent in the deal for the actual amount of the insurance.

Stewart claimed Reynolds must have pocketed the money he was supposed to forward to the agent, and that the McCloskey company later had to pay it.

PAID PREMIUM TWICE

"You paid this premium twice, then," asked Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.

"Yes," said Stewart, describing it as a "good" because apparently nobody told the agent to bill Reynolds for it.

McCloskey asserted he was going to sue to get the money back if he was sent an inflated bill, as Reynolds claimed.

Curtis said Reynolds' testimony about collecting $35,000 and transmitting $25,000 to Baker, "still hasn't been disproved."

The Nebraska senator told Stewart he could see "nothing in the explanation you have given here that makes it impossible for Reynolds' story to be true."

Sen. Cooper declared Stewart's story "could fit either theory" and that further inquiry is necessary.

HEAVY EATER DROPS 120 LBS.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Patrick J. McKenna, who trimmed his weight from 399 to 279 pounds on a 120-day starvation diet, said Wednesday he would do it again if necessary.

McKenna, 60, saw his waistline shrink from 64 to 50 inches and said he would repeat the performance despite the hunger he never lost and the desperate craving for salt he developed.

He admitted he fudged on his diet Thanksgiving Day but explained, "it didn't put any weight on me." He now weighs 265.

The Oklahoma City newspaper man lost the poundage under close supervision of doctors at the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation from May 3 to August 31. He ate no food during the four-month period.

After his release, he went on a "suggested diet" prepared by medical researchers and is still sticking to it. During confinement he subsisted on vitamins and nonfood liquids such as tea, coffee and sugar-free soft drinks.

The four-man medical team that supervised McKenna said he was overweight just because he ate too much.

POLICING THE POLLS
LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Acid-proof ballot boxes, extra solid polling booths and ballots that cannot be forged are among the precautions being taken for federal elections scheduled for an unspecified date this year, election officials said.

ME AND MY LIGHT POLE
WICHITA, Kan., (AP) — Joyce E. Roberts was walking across a parking lot on a dark night when she saw what appeared to be the shadow of a utility pole.

When she tried to step through it she found it was a real utility pole. She suffered only scratches when she fell.

UNIONS AGREE TO RAIL TALKS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Further talks are planned — but none have been scheduled — in a wage dispute involving three shop craft unions and most of the nation's railroads.

A Labor Department spokesman reported no progress after a two-hour meeting Wednesday between Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and management negotiators. The spokesman said further meetings would be held.

A scheduled strike was postponed indefinitely last week at Wirtz' request and the talks were moved here from Chicago. No new strike date was set.

The International Association of Machinists, the Sheet Metal Workers' Association and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers are demanding wage and fringe benefit increases totaling about 36 cents an hour over three years. Management negotiators have offered 27 cents, a figure recommended by a presidential emergency board.

Three other shop unions which had threatened to strike have accepted the 27-cent figure.

CHINA AND THE CONGO
President Right On Paratroop Drop
China Unable To Aid The Congo

PRESIDENT JOHNSON was eminently correct in authorizing the dramatic rescue deep in the heart of the Congo.

The right and duty of a nation, alone or in cooperation with other nations, to protect its citizens from the chaos of anarchy and barbarism within another nation is one of the oldest principles of international law.

It is a principle and a practice as old and as accepted as the admiralty court decisions of all nations on the crime of piracy on the high seas.

There are those who say there is no such thing as international law. They are either utterly ignorant or too lazy to inform themselves. There is an age old body of rules, principles and precedents arising from treaties, conventions, reciprocal rights, duties and court rulings among nations that have the same force upon nations as do national or state laws upon individuals.

Space does not permit so much as a listing of the many precedents for the recent Belgian-American action in the Congo. The logic of the situation alone is sufficient.

It boils down to the obvious concept that if a government is not sovereign enough within its own national boundaries to maintain law and order, the sovereignty of that government is not being impaired if another nation, or group of nations, move in to rescue helpless and innocent persons of all categories.

That is what happened in the Congo.

THERE WAS A DAY when Americans, Europeans and other civilized peoples argued there was an additional humanitarian duty to protect the peoples of a troubled country against their own anarchy and chaos.

Kipling, the poet of British imperialism, unhappily called that concept "the white man's burden." With imperialism down the drain and racism rampant in the emotions of men, the concept of protecting an emergent people against their own anarchy is in as much disrepute as is Kipling's unhappy phrase.

But in the chaos of the Congo, at least one rescued mission school teacher cried out in behalf of the tragic fate of the educated Congolese. There is an implication that perhaps someone should bear a burden in their behalf.

According to her, the white people had suffered unspeakable barbarities, but the educated Congolese had suffered even more.

"Whoever could read, write and do sums was shot," she said. "Most of the Congolese we have educated are dead—at least 2,000."

The total picture in the Congo is one of civilization versus tribalism, barbarism, voodooism. Through communism in Africa fills the headlines, there are neither Russians nor Chinese among the Congo rebels. The movement is more like a loose confederation of tribesmen on the war path.

That the blaring bluster of broadcasts from China, Russia and Egypt unquestionably stimulates the nativism to a new boldness and greater excesses, there can be no doubt. Thus Red propaganda is a factor, but is merely opportunistic and ephemeral compared to the basic aspects of the Congo problem.

IT IS WORTHY of note that China is the most vociferous and demonstrative of those who encourage barbaric excesses with propaganda and at the same time is the most threatening toward America.

Significantly, China is the one large nation in the world today that is most impotent to help any African group or to hurt the United States.

The Chinese navy, of less than fifty thousand officers and men on 340 rather small patrol ships and 24 submarines is too weak to support the capture of Quemoy, within artillery range of China's coast.

Though China has recently exploded "a nuclear device," she has neither an air force or a system of rocketry to deliver the device. The Chinese Air Force has deteriorated through lack of technical support from Russia.

There is much loose talk about Chinese army strength because of the limitless manpower.

For infiltrating "volunteer" guerrillas into military adventures in adjacent Asian areas, like Viet Nam, China's army can create a nuisance. The degree to which it can help anyone in Africa or Cuba is insignificant.

Colonel Robert Rigg, U.S. Army, who has seen more of the Chinese armies in combat with one another than any other American, thinks Mao is more interested in keeping his army intensely loyal, in which Mao has been highly successful, than he is in modernizing it. In size it is little if any over a million men. Its many divisions are small.

Colonel Rigg also considers the Chinese mountain campaign "over the roof of the world" against neutralist India to have been a "brand of military excellence." Every soldier knows mountain warfare is the most primitive form of organized combat, hence, the colonel's remarks are not in contradiction of one another.

FOYT TESTS
LATEST TOY

By BLOYS BRITT
NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — A. J. Foyt gets a chance today to show off his latest toy — a 521-horsepower racing bomb built by John Mecom Jr. of Houston, Tex.

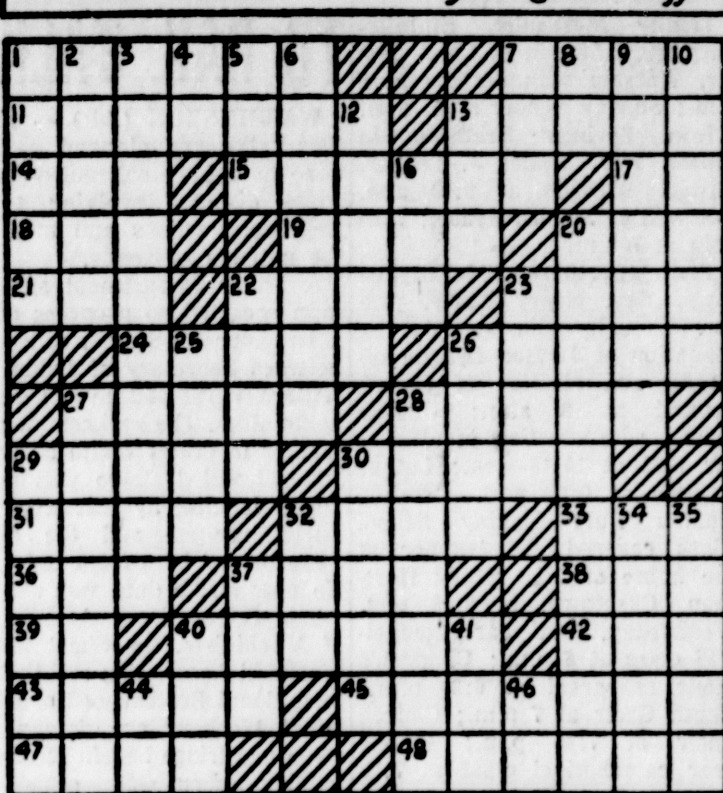

The car, named the King Hussein I for Mecom's close friend, the king of Jordan, has been raced only once. It developed carburetor trouble at Riverside, Calif., last month and was scratched.

Foyt will shake it down in a 15-lap race over Nassau's tough Oakes Field course against some of the world's top road racing drivers. He also will use it to defend the Nassau international trophy in a 252-mile grind Sunday.

Mecom says the Hussein is the most powerful race car ever built.

Foyt drove it in practice for the first time here Thursday. "I didn't even try to let it go," he said. "We were just getting the kinks out."

ACES TRIUMPH
OVER BISONS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sharp-shooting Wayne Hicks is sparking the Quebec Aces to a runaway in the Eastern Division of the American Hockey League.

The burly right winger, who is leading the league in goals and points, made his 18th marker of the season a big one. It came at 5:45 in the overtime period and beat spectacular Denis DeJordy and the Buffalo Bisons 4-3 Thursday night at Quebec.

It was the second straight overtime triumph this week for the Aces over the Bisons. The victory in the AHL's lone game boosted the Aces' first place margin in the Eastern Division to eight points over runner-up Hershey, Buffalo, second in the West, trails Rochester by six points.

Hicks was fed the winner by Ed Hoekstra and veteran defenseman Doug Harvey. The other Quebec scorers were Guy Gendron, Leon Rochefort and John Blackbush. John Stanfield, Len Lunde and Pat Hannigan scored for Buffalo.

Quebec goalie Gump Worsley played with an injured ankle as the Aces scored their fourth victory in their last five games, three of them on the road. DeJordy made 34 saves to Worsley's 20.
